GREAT STRUGGLE CONTINUES IN BELGIUM

RUSSIAN ARMORED CRUISER TORPEDOED

Little News Concerning Developments of the Fighting Given to the Public—Army Which Evacuated Antwerp Has Been Completely Lost Sight of, While French Official Statements Tell Absolutely Nothing.

Baltic Sea the Scene of Naval Engagement in Which a German Submarine Torpedoed and Sunk the Russian Armored Cruiser Pallada and Her Entire Crew—The Fight Occurred Early Last Sunday Morning.

RUSSIANS ARE BEING DRIVEN BACK BY GERMANS

Decided Reversal of Fortune Has Taken Place in Eastern Theatre of War—Austrian Army, Oft Reported Surrounded by Russians, Has Taken the Offensive, and the Great Bear Moves Back Once Again.

CARRIED FIVE HUNDRED AND SIXTY EIGHT MEN

German Submarines First Sighted in the Baltic Sea on the Tenth, and Were Engaged—Again Were Sighted on the Eleventh, at Which Time the Pallada Was Sunk. Other Vessels Not Damaged in the Fight.

London, Oct. 12.—The finger of the censor having twisted the torniquet on all sources of news from Belgium, just now perhaps the most potentially important scene of the fighting, the British people were forced to content themselves today with the official communication from Paris and even a close analysis of this showed no marked change in the situation favoring either side.

From the east came tidings of a decided reversal in form, the dispatches both from Vienna and Petrograd indicating that the Austrian army at Prosemysl so often reported surrounded, hopelessly outclassed and on the verge of surrender, had turned on the Russians with the aid of reinforcements, and forced them to retreat.

The first news of this claim came during the morning from the Austrian capital. It followed later by what purports to be a Petrograd admission that the Russians had abandoned the siege of Prsemyal for strategical reasons, with the object of drawing up a new line against the Austro-German army in other points in Galacia.

Whatever may be the truth of the situation, the Russians have been claiming an unbroken series of victories in their sweep through Galacia and the coincidence to today's dispatches, supplemented as they were by more circumstantial accounts from Vienna and a vigorous Austro-German offensive, seemed to presage important news.

The British and Belgian troops whoo retired from Antwerp before the German occupation with the exception of those now interned on Dutch soil as a result of having had to cross the border, have been swallowed as competely as if they had been burred under the ruined forts. For military reasons their positions and the area of hostilities in Belgium must remain obscure until the turn of events bring them sharply to the fore again, as was the case when, after the fall of Antwerp, the British public learned for the first time that the British forces had assisted the garrison.

British Press Optimistic.

Optimistic, as always, the British press, besides contending that Antwerp is of no importance to Germany as a naval base, finds solace in the argument that the release of the allied troops there more than counterbalances the troops which Germany will send from that point into France.

The official communication from Paris indicated that the left wing is stretching further west and north, and will soon reach the coast, if the opposing sides continue throwing out cavalry in an endeavor to outflank or break through.

The allies make no claim to victory in the afternoon statement, which opens with the remark that these cavalry operations continue as far north and west as Hazebrouck, a point hardly more than a day's walk from Calais.

When the allies claimed yesterday they had driven the Germans from Aire, London learned for the first time that the Germans had made substantial progress west from Armetriers, which they left last week. Presaumably the allies still hold the ground they claim to have regained, but the Germans are throwing more men westward and are putting up a hard fight. The communication does not make plain which side holds the town nearest the coast.

Progress in Center.

Nowhere along the battle line do the allies say they have made any progress except in the center, on the right bank of the Aisne below Soissons. At two other points, notably between Arras and the Oise, and on the right, on the Vosges, it is said the German attacks have been repulsed. A paragraph in the official communication saying it is believed the Germans are occupying only the suburbs of Antwerp, while the 24 forts along the Scheldt (escaut) still are holding out, has been received in London with considerable surprise and skepticism, in view of the announcement of the British war office that the city was occupied by the Germans, and the Berlin official statement that the invaders took virtually complete possession of the city.

Probably stirred by the bomb dropping exploits of German air craft over Paris, London seems to be prepared for such visitors, and official notice has been served on persons living near the mouth of the Thames that they should be ready to seek their cellars at the first sound of firing, as there will be no time to spread the news in any more formal way.

Recruiting through Great Britain, particularly in London, has been increasing, it is said, since the fall of Antwerp, the talk of the Germans advancing from there to Ostend, having seemingly brought the war close home in the minds of the people.

The whereabouts of the Belgian queen is still a matter of conjecture, and the same vagueness surrounds the King's reported wounds.

FROM THE BATTLE FRONT.

Tales of Individual Bravery About All That Correspondence Can Tell.

From the Battle Front, via Paris, Oct. 12.—The battlefield northwest of Lille, was the point of greatest interest in today's continuation of the great conflict which already has lasted 29 days. The cavalry of both armies has swept about the country for days, seeking to go through or around the opposing lines, and everywhere has encountered the enemy.

A successful ruse carried out by a detachment of French infantry in the vicinity of Lens is related in the orders of the day. Having been ordered to hold a position the small squad did so throughout the day, but at dusk the detachment was compelled to retire before an overwhelming force of Germans. Reaching a country estate, the French commander placed a number of men in the last outlying houses with orders to remain until they heard the bugle call. The rest of the party took up a position a quarter of a mile further on in the open country.

The Germans continued their pursuit without noticing the French riflemen in the houses. A bugle sounded and fire was opened both on the front and on the rear of the German front, which after losing many men, retreated. The French re-occupied their original position and saved the allies' line from being pierced.

Promoted for Bravery.

A French non-commissioned officer with 32 men who had been forgotten at an entrenched advance post near Roye, saw 7,000 Germans advancing, but the Frenchmen did not move until their ammunition was exhausted. Then the officer ordered his men to retire through a wood and he rejoined his regiment with 20 of his command. He was promoted on the field to be a lieutenant, as hiastan d had permitted a reinforcement of the allied line at a critical moment.

The weather, except for some chilly nights, is ideal for military operations. Even the men occupying exposed trenches have recovered from the damp spell.

Trench duty in the siege operations is now thoroughly organized. The digging continues and the trenches of the opposing armies approach to within 100 yards of each other at some places. The men in these ditches, especially along the line from Rheims to the Meuse, have been inactive often during the past few days and in loud voices they often call upon each other to come out and fight. Some of the men have become very daring, life in the burrows with the occasional turn at rifle firing being so monotonous that they go out in search of adventure. One party of three Algerians left their shelter and proceeded to a house which was still standing near the lines. There they found seven Germans. The men fraternized and together searched the cellar. After regaling themselves on wine, the Algerians, who had brought rifles, ordered the Germans to fall in and took them prisoners.

In Alsace the French continue their advance. Frequent skirmishes are being fought between the German rear guard and the French advance guard. Snow has fallen on the high hills in this region, making operations difficult.

AMERICAN MINISTER REFUSED

Petrograd, Oct. 12.—An official communication issued today announces that on October 11 the Russian armored cruiser Pallada was torpedoed in the Baltic Sea by a German submarine and sank with all her crew.

The text of the communication, made public by the marine department, follows:

October the 10th German submarines were sighted in the Baltic Sea. The same day, early in the morning the submarines attacked the cruiser Admiral Makarov, which had stopped to search a suspected bark flying the commercial flag of The Netherlands.

A submarine of the enemy launched several several torpedoes which luckily missed the mark and caused no damage whatever to the cruiser.

"On October 11, at 2 P. M., the submarines of the enemy again attacked our cruisers Bayan and Pallada, which were patrolling the Baltic.

"Although the cruisers opened in time a very strong fire, one of the submarines succeeded in launching torpedoes against the Pallada, whereupon an explosion resulted and the cruiser sank with all her crew."

The armored cruiser Pallada carried a complement of 586 men. She measured 443 feet and had a displacement of 7,775 tons. Her speed was 23 knots. With the Admiral Marakov and the Bayan she constituted a group of cruisers known as the "Bayan class."

The Pallada carried two 8-inch guns; eight 6-inch guns; twenty-two 12-pounders and four 3-pounders, in addition to torpedo tubes.

RUSSIANS PREPARE TO FIGHT.

London, Oct. 12.—A Central News dispatch from Rome says that a message to the Messagero from Petrograd states that the Russians have abandoned the siege of Przemysl in Prussian Galicia, to put themselves in a strategical position to meet the Austro-German army.

NO CHANGE IN LINE.

Petrograd, Oct. 12.—The following statement was issued tonight by the chief of the Russian general staff:

"On October 11th fighting began on the left bank of the Vistula in the direction of Warsaw.

"There is no change at other points on our front.

"Detachments of Russian cavalry have emerged in the plains of Hungary."

DIXIE CONGRESSMEN ARE MAKING SUPREME EFFORT

Southern Legislators in Washington Want Federal Government to Directly Aid South Financially to Meet Cotton Situation—Determined Fight in Its Behalf.

Washington, Oct. 12.—Senators and representatives from cotton growing states determined today to make one more supreme effort to get legislative relief from Congress before adjournment for the threatening conditions facing the cotton growers because of the European war.

Democratic senators from Southern states blocked an agreement to vote on the war tax bill Thursday when they determined to attempt to add an amendment to the measure calculated to aid the cotton growers. The amendment probably would be submitted tomorrow and afford an opportunity for a vote on the issue. Southern senators, it was learned tonight, do not propose to filibuster on the revenue bill, but they do want an opportunity to vote on a proposal for relief of their constituents, whether it should carry or not.

Tonight Southern senators met at the home of Senator Hoke Smith, of Georgia. Among the proposals discussed were the following:

Curtailment of appropriations for the coming fiscal year to the amount of $100,000,000 and utilization of this amount to help carry the cotton crop and to make advances upon cotton.

Sale of undisposed Panama Canal bonds to be utilized for the same purpose.

Want Bonds Issued.

Issue of $225,000,000 of three year, 4 per cent government bonds, in denominations of $10 and up for the purchase of 5,000,000 bales of cotton to be held by the government until January 1, 1916.

The bond issue proposal, it was suggested, should be accompanied by an excise tax on cotton producers of $10 a bale on all cotton produced next year in excess of five bales per plow.

In the House today Representative Henry, of Texas, served notice that he purposed to try to force a vote tomorrow on the project of Southern members for an issue of $250,000,000 in currency based on cotton and tobacco warehouse receipts. He introduced a resolution for a drastic rule to give the plan right-of-way and also sent a reply to the letter of Secretary McAdoo to him against the proposed legislation. Mr. Henry insisted that the Secretary had the right to deposit public moneys in Southern National banks "in any manner you deem 'equitable' to the extent of the funds in your hands or that may be supplied you by congressional action."

Representative Hardwick, of Georgia, who talked with the President today introduced a bill proposing the issue and sale of all of the Panama Canal bonds heretofore authorized, at 4 per cent instead of 2 per cent interest, and for the deposit of the proceeds in the National banking associations and state banks in the cotton and tobacco belt.

Mr. Henry's rule, which he wants the rules committee, of which he is chairman, to report favorably, is an omnibus proposal for immediate consideration of the cotton currency bill, the Senate bill to license cotton warehouses, a Senate bill to amend the National banking laws and House bills to amend the Federal reserve laws, each bill to have one hour general debate, 30 minutes for amendment and then vote.

Mr. Henry's reply to Secretary McAdoo which he ineffectually sought to have the House print in the Congressional Record, says there is no chance for the government to lose a penny on cotton and tobacco. "You should join us and help to get legislation to sell the Panama Canal bonds and issue United States notes," he wrote. "Restrain banks; hold them in leash and prevent their further inflation of the currency which is not reaching the farmers this year."

RUSSIA IS BENEFITED.

By the Death of Rumanian King—People Are Friendly.

Petrograd, Oct. 12.—via London. An official statement today expresses the belief that the death Sunday of King Charles of Rumania removes an obstacle to the turning of Rumania to the cause of the allies to which end recent Russian diplomatic efforts were unavoiling. It further is said that the sympathies of the Rumanian people, who in the past have shown they opposed the championing of Prussia by the late King, will now assert themselves.

Consequently, according to Russian authorities, Rumania now will cease to menace Russia by furnishing provisions and transporting troops for Germany.

ATHLETICS' SUN SLOWLY SETS AS BRAVES TAKE THIRD GAME AFTER TWELVE INNING BATTLE

GEROGE TYLER.

BUSH AND TYLER HAD ROYAL PITCHERS' DUEL

A SENSATIONAL GAME

Most Nerve Racking World Series Game Since 1912.—Braves Deserved Brilliant Victory After Strong Defensive.

Boston, Oct. 12.—In one of the most sensational games ever played in a world's series the Boston Braves defeated the Philadelphia Athletics at Fenway Park today 5 to 4. Twelve innings were necessary before the National League representatives could record their third consecutive victory of the present series.

So bitterly was the struggle contested by both teams that with the possible exception of the final game between the New York Giants and the Boston Red Sox in 1912, nothing equalling today's play has been recorded since the world's series began under National Commission auspices in 1905.

Lasted Over Three Hours.

For three hours and six minutes the two teams alternately led, tied or forged ahead in the score and the game that began in bright sunlight was won in deep twilight. While not the best played of the series from the standpoint of technical baseball, it was so abounding in dramatic moments that the 35,000 spectators who filled the stands were lifted to heights of enthusiasm by the struggle.

Youngsters Mount to Fame.

New players mounted to niches in the world's series hall of fame and others suffered the temporary censure of baseball critics, but when the winning run finally crossed the plate in the dusk, the general sentiment was that it was a splendid game to win and a trying one to lose.

The Braves rushed joyously from the field determined to clinch the championship title of 1914 with a fourth victory tomorrow, while the Athletics taciturn and grave, filed slowly out of the park still hopeful that their famous machine would yet arise to the emergency that faced it. To retain the honors won last fall, the Mackmen must win the next four games, a task generally considered impossible by followers of baseball. The odds on the Boston club tonight are 3 to 1, with little Athletic money in sight.

Braves' Fighting Spirit.

The most striking feature of the play was the fighting spirit shown by the youthful combination that Manager George Stallings has gathered around him. Repeatedly the Philadelphia team would battle its way into the lead only to witness its rival draw alongside again in the same or the succeeding inning. Never once during the nerve racking contest did the Braves cease their attack. Both from an individual and collective standpoint they deserved the victory they won.

The American Leaguers were the first to score, sending a run across the plate in the opening inning on Murphy's two-base hit. He moved to third on Oldring's sacrifice fly and scored when Connolly dropped Collins' high fly. The Braves tied the score in the second inning on Maranville's walk, steal of second, and sprint to the plate on Gowdy's double into the left field bleachers.

In the fourth, each team added another run. For the Athletics, McInnis doubled and scored on Walsh's single to left.

Schmidt responded for the home team with a single over second, advanced on Deal's out and counted on Maranville's single to right.

With Honors Even.

With the score 2 to 2, the play continued without advantage one way or the other until the tenth inning. The Mackmen began the extra session by scoring two run, when Schang singled to left and was safe on Tyler's late throw low to second on Murphy's grounder to the pitcher. After Oldring's out, Collins walked and Schang and Murphy scored on Baker's single.

Gowdy started the Braves' rally with a home run into the bleachers back of centerfield. Moran got a pass off Bush, went to third on Evers' single over second and came home on Connolly's sacrifice fly. Again the score was tied.

Another inning and a half passed without result, but when Catcher Gowdy came to bat for the Boston club in the 12th, he opened with a double to left field, his third hit of the game.

Bush Threw Wild.

Mann was sent to second to run for him. Bush purposely passed Gilbert, sent in as a pinch hitter for James. When Moran bunted half way between third and the pitchers' box, Bush grabbed the ball and attempted to catch Mann at third. "Bullet Joe's" throw was wild. The ball went into left field, the relief runner rounded third and loped home with the winning run and the Braves' third victory in three games.

Gowdy the Hero.

Although Gowdy did not cross the plate with the run which his double started, he was the hero of the game. His two doubles and home run in four times at bat were the feature hits of the contest. Johnny Evers was second with three singles, and Schmidt, Deal and Maranville also contributed opportune hits. Murphy, with two doubles, and Baker, with a double and a single, were the leading Athletic batters.

Battery Work Poor.

The battery work was not as clean cut nor as spectacular as in the preceding games. In addition to Bush's wild

DOVE OF PEACE MAY ALIGHT IN MEXICO

Hopeful Reports Come From Military Convention

AT AGUAS CALIENTIES

Official Report to Washington is Encouraging—Will Demand Carranza to Release All Political Prisoners.

Washington, Oct. 12.—Hopeful reports reached Washington today from the military convention being held at Aguas Calientes to determine the personnel of the future government of Mexico. Not only are Generals Carranza and Villa represented, but General Zapata has sent three delegates whose credentials have been accepted.

The official report of the meeting transmitted to the American government said the convention formally met and organized Saturday, adjourning until today. Gen. Antonio Villareal, military governor for the State of Nuevo Leon, was chosen permanent chairman, with Generals Robles and Natera, vice-chairmen. The minutes of the previous convention at Mexico City were formally approved.

The basis of representation agreed upon was that each delegate must prove that he had command of at least 1,000 men in the army, or must have been identified as a general or governor with the Constitutionalist movement before Zacatecas was captured from the Huerta government. It was this point upon which General Villa had been insisting from the beginning.

Release Political Prisoners.

General Eduardo Hay, one of the men who opposed the acceptance of Carranza's resignation at the Mexico City convention, made an impassioned speech, urging the adoption of a resolution calling on General Carranza to release all political prisoners, as General Villa had done.

He was applauded, as he suggested the language of the resolution be changed from a "request" to an "order." He said the acts and resolutions of the convention should be regarded as orders upon all chiefs, including Carranza.

The convention passed the resolution in that form.

Official reports further state that the prevailing spirit of the meeting is one of harmony and a unanimity of feeling exists against further bloodshed.

Some delegates had not arrived when the convention organized Saturday and today's meeting was expected to develop a discussion of the form of government to be adopted.

The Constitutionalist agency here re-

REPUBLICAN WAIL HEARD IN SENATE

Free-for-all Attack on the Administration

SIMMONS MAKES REPLY

Pending War Revenue Bill is Base for General Assault on Democratic Party, Wilson and All His Policies.

Washington, Oct. 12.—A general Republican assault on the Democratic administration and its policies, with particular reference to the pending war revenue bill, was made in the Senate today while Democratic leaders were devoting their efforts to early adjournment.

Senators Smoot, Burton, Borah and Smith, of Michigan, vigorously assailed domestic legislation and administrative policies, declaring the $100,000,000 additional taxation now proposed was made necessary by what they termed Democratic blunders. They went into detail in their criticisms of extravagance in appropriations.

Silence on the Democratic side greeted the outburst. Democratic leaders planned to allow the Republicans to have their say, then pass the tax bill and adjourn.

Senator Simmons, however, briefly replied to attacks on the tariff.

The demand of Southern members of Congress for legislation to relieve the cotton situation loomed up as a possible bar to early adjournment.

Senator Overman, of North Carolina, declined to allow the Senate to agree that the tax bill be voted on Thursday, asserting that some action must be taken in relation to cotton. It is expected the Southerners will be satisfied if a vote is taken on an amendment to aid the cotton states and that this will be done.

Smoot Opened Attack.

Senator Smoot, opening the Republican attack on the tax bill, declared no additional levy would have been necessary if the protective tariff law had remained in force. He said the plea that the European war made the tax necessary was a "shameful pretext."

"It will be better," he said, "to issue temporary certificates of indebtedness than to impose taxes with the present condition of the country and with the enormous increase in taxation already imposed upon the people. The administration fears naturally, that money could not be borrowed at a creditable rate of interest, as was shown under the Cleveland administration. Hence they make a pretext of the war in Europe to impose this further great burden of taxation.

"The demand for taxation is on an imaginary basis, but the money is to be used for a definite purpose and that is to make up the deficit caused by the disastrous legislation put through by the party in power."

PLAN OF ATLANTIC COAST LINE UPSET

Can Charge Only for Hauling Shortest Route

ON FREIGHT SHIPMENTS

Corporation Commission Issues Order That A. C. L. and Other Roads Must Abide by "Rule 29" of the Commission.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 12.—The Corporation Commission issued this evening an order upsetting the purpose of the Atlantic Coast Line, and any other of the North Carolina railroad companies that were planning to do so, to inaugurate a system in applying the new reduced intrastate freight rates, effective October 13 through the Special Railroad Commission, by which the railroad would charge the higher rate for the longer distance over its own lines in cases where there was a shorter route over different lines for shipments where the shorter and cheaper route was not specified by the shipper.

The commission says the Atlantic Coast Line has been advertising its purpose to apply the rate of its own shortest line to shipments not specially routed by a still lower combination route where such exists and giving notice that in "shipments so forwarded the company may not under the law entertain claims for overcharge on the basis of the lower rate applicable via another route."

The commission holds that this course would be in direct violation of Rule 29 of the commission, which can be enforced even if Section 2 of the Justice Act would seem to warrant the course indicated by the railroad company. Rule 29 making it obligatory on the railroad company to ship by the route giving the lowest rate; that the plan of the railroad company would put the burden of routing the shipment over the cheapest route on the shipper, the majority of whom never think of it and are uninformed.

The commission orders that the Atlantic Coast Line withdraw at once these instructions given its agents and direct them to "route all shipments in strict accord with Rule 29 of the Corporation Commission and furnish the commission with copies of such instructions to agents."

Oppose Taking Off 90 and 91.

Dr. R. L. Carr, of Rose Hill, was here today conferring with the Corporation Commission, representing opposition on the part of citizens of Rose Hill, Warsaw and Magnolia who oppose the petition of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company to be permitted to take off passenger trains Nos. 90 and 91, Wilmington and Goldsboro, on account of decrease in passenger travel. The commission has not indicated whether or not a hearing will be given opposition before acting on the petition of the railroad company.

CIRCULATING PETITIONS.

Towns Affected Protest Against Discontinuance of Trains 90 and 91.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Warsaw, N. C., Oct. 12.—A petition is being circulated here by prominent business men protesting against the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company taking off passenger trains Nos. 90 and 91, which pass here at 5:30 A. M. and 11:30 P. M., respectively, and the people of this town, assisted by the other towns along the line between Goldsboro and Wilmington, will present to the Corporation Commission the petitions asking that the railroad company be denied the right to discontinue these trains.

The petitioners are taking the stand that these are the most convenient trains operated along this line, owing to the fact that they are the only ones that will allow the people of this section to reach Raleigh, Wilson, and other points, transact their business, and return home on the same day. They feel that the accounts that were given do not take into consideration the fares that are paid on other branches of this road, and other railroads over which the people use train No. 90 for reaching the points at which they make this transfer, and that owing to the other schedules, they would have to wait several hours at junction points, if they were forced to take the other trains operated on this line.

In a telephonic message received here the Corporation Commission has promised that the people who are making the objection will be given a hearing before they decide the matter, although no date has as yet been set.

SELLING COTTON AT MT. OLIVE.

About One-Third the Usual Amount is Sold—Other News Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Mount Olive, N. C., Oct. 12.—Up to this time about 1,000 bales of cotton have been sold on the market here, which is about one-third the amount that is usually handled on this market by this time of the season. Most of this has been bought by merchants who took it at prices ranging from 7 1-2 to 10 cents per pound, to be applied to the liquidation of fertilizer accounts. Several thousand bushels of cotton seed have also been sold here, at prices ranging from 25 to 30 cents per bushel. Both markets are active daily.

Rev. Jas. H. Frizelle, pastor of the Methodist church here, began a protracted meeting with his church yesterday, which will continue for about 10 days. He has secured no outside assistance, and in announcing this fact he let it be known that he expected his members to take a very active part in the work of the meeting; that he had little patience with a fruitless Christian.

Work on the first cotton storage warehouse to be built here has been begun, and is located on the Coast Line right-of-way, just north of the station.

HARRY WOODS A SUICIDE.

Secretary of State for Illinois Takes Own Life With Pistol.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 12.—Secretary of State Harry Woods, one of the Democratic senatorial candidates at the September primary, and former operator on the Chicago Board of Trade, killed himself early yesterday morning. His lifeless body, with a bullet wound in the center of the forehead and an automatic pistol clutched in his right hand, was discovered early today in a garage at the rear of his residence.

Mrs. Woods, who found the body, could assign no motive.

11TH HOUR SURPRISE SPRUNG BY RAILROADS

Supplement to New Intra-State Rate Tariffs

Withdraw Special Commodity Rates Now Existing—Corporation Commission Says in Violation of Law—Order Issued.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 12.—There poured in on the Corporation Commission today from practically all the companies doing intra-state freight transportation, and effected by the new rates, supplements to their intra-state freight tariffs withdrawing their special rates on commodities between various points in the State, in many cases these special rates being lower than the rates prescribed in the tariff of rates by the special commission effective tomorrow and their action having the effect of raising existing rates on the commodities involved in violation of the Justice act and the findings of the special commission, the Corporation Commission says.

The commission issued an order tonight that all these supplements or notices are disapproved by the commission in so far as they have the effect of raising existing rates, and directing that the special commodity rates be continued in effect. The action by the railroad companies came as a complete surprise to the commission and other State officials and indicates, in their opinion, a desire on the part of railroad companies to make the new intra-state rates by the special commission the minimum as well as the maximum rates instead of merely the maximum as the State authorities intended.

The commodity rates effective include those on stone for building and other purposes and many articles used by manufacturers, including unfinished products shipped on "in transit" basis. It would seem, they say, that the railroad companies would recoup a considerable part of what they would lose through rate reductions specified in the special commission rates through eliminating their existing special commodity rates, where lower than rates that would otherwise apply under the Justice Act, under which the special commission acted.

The repeal of the "long and short haul" clause might, it is said, seem at least to prohibit the granting of spcial commodity rates such as the railroad companies now seek to annul in this State.

LAND 10-FOOT SHARK.

Monster Captured at Seashore Hotel Pier Sunday Afternoon.

Mr. Stephen Brock, keeper of the Seashore Hotel pier, assisted by a number of Wilmington anglers, hooked and landed Sunday afternoon a shark measuring nine feet and ten inches in length, estimated to weigh between 550 and 600 pounds. The monster was landed on a strong landline, to which was attached a chain leader about one yard in length and two large hand-forged No. 10-0 hooks.

The shark had been cruising around the pier all the forenoon, making trouble for the rod-and-reel anglers by picking up their baited hooks and calmly making off with them, breaking the slender lines with no apparent effort. Becoming tired of feeding rigs to the shark, the fishermen appealed to Steve, who bated his shark rig with a whole mullet and heaved it overboard. An hour or so later the shark, making another circle of pier, located the bait and then the fun began.

Hooked, the big fish put up quite a struggle, and several times it took the combined efforts of half a dozen men to keep him from heading out to sea. He was tired out in about 15 minutes however, and led ashore, where his carcaess was an object of interest to many visitors to the beach during the afternoon.

An autopsy performed disclosed that the shark's breakfast consisted of several dozen mullet, some menhaden, a smaller shark, numerous catfish, two skates and one stingaree, at least a foot broad, which had been captured by a fisherman not an hour earlier and thrown back into the water after being killed.

This is probably the largest shark ever landed at the pier. Mr. Brock and others landed one last year only several inches shorter, but, it is said, not quite so heavily built as was this one.

STRICKEN AT THE THROTTLE.

Mr. H. M. Clark, Faithful Employee of The Coast Line, Dies.

Fayetteville, N. C., Oct. 12.—The following from the Observer of this afternoon will be of interest to many along the line of the old C. F. & Y. V. from here to Wilmington who knew Mr. H. M. Clark, of this city:

"The funeral of the late Henry M. Clark was conducted from Hay Street Methodist Church yesterday afternoon, and the interment was in Cross Creek Cemetery.

"Mr. Clark was a faithful employee of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company and died at his post, having been stricken with apoplexy while running his train to Bennettsville. He began his railroad career under his brother, Mr. I. W. Clark, who was master mechanic for the C. F. & Y. V. Railroad up to the time of its sale to the Atlantic Coast Line. Henry M. Clark was an engineer for the C. F & Y. V. and at its sale continued with the Coast Line in the same capacity, serving faithfully until his death. Mr. Clark was a member of the Knights of Pythias, who in a large body attended the funeral.

"The following were the pall-bearers: Captain Alexander Campbell, M. F. Crawford, Crawford Hedgpeth, J. C. Pope, C. D. Hutaff, and W. H. McKay."

NORTH CAROLINA WINS OVER SOUTH CAROLINA.

By the Crushing Score of 48 tto 0. Features.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Chapel Hill, N. C., Oct. 12.—North Carolina's crushing defeat of South Carolina by a score of 48 tto 0 here Monday came as a climax to the brilliant celebration of the 120th birthday of the University. The first half was fought with terrific fierceness, score 14 tto 0. South Carolina weakened in the last half, score 34 tot 0. Taylor and Parker starred. South Carolina failed to make first down.

DR. CLAXTON SPEAKS ON UNIVERSITY DAY

The Most Successful Celebration Yet Held.

Is Presented With Honorary Degree of LL.D., Following Address in Which He Gives His Idea of Educational System for U. S.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Chapel Hill, N. C., Oct. 12.—United States Commissioner of Education P. P. Claxton was the principal speaker of the most successful University Day celebration the University has had. This celebration was the 120th anniversary of the laying of the corner stone of the University. About a thousand students, faculty members and alumni were in the procession that marched to the Memorial hall.

Dr. Claxton reviewed the marvelous growth of educational facilities during the last 21 years, and forcefully presented his idea of the system of education that should be adopted throughout the United States. In his opinion, the last two years of high school should be a special department so diversified that the boys and girls can either train themselves to enter life or college. Then there should be small junior colleges to train students the first two years and relieve the over-crowded, unsatisfactory lower classes in the bigger colleges, where 62 per cent of the students drop before the junior year.

After the address, President Graham presented Dr. Claxton with the honorary degree of LL. D.

DOVE OF PEACE MAY ALIGHT IN MEXICO

ceived the following telegram from Mexico City, today:

"General J. Carranza, at the head of the Second division of the center, and at the head of an army of more than 30,000 men, with sixty cannon and seventy machine guns, has arrived at the capital, having come from the Isthmus of Tehuantepec, where he superintended the mustering out of the Federal troops located in that region, and took over the garrisons of Guaymas and Mazatlan."

TO PREVENT MORE TROUBLE.

American Soldiers Line International Border Line in West Texas.

Naco, Ariz., Oct. 12.—The Ninth and Tenth United States Cavalry, under Col. C. A. P. Hatfield, were lined up along the international boundary today to prevent the Villa and Carranza factions from again bringing their warfare upon American soil.

This followed the second appeal to President Wilson for protection of the town aglanst stray bullets and shells which for ten days have fallen here instead of in the Mexican camps.

Sheriff Wheeler asked Governor Hunt today to request withdrawal of the Federal troops. He offered to gather 500 cowboys who would "protect the town without discussing technicalities."

Whitlock to transmit the notification, which, under article 26 of The Hague convention, an invading force is obliged to give to the people of a city about to be bombarded. Mr. Whitlock refused to present the communication, desiring in accordance with the strict neutrality of the United States, not to be the bearer of military messages to any of the belligerents. The Germans insisted all other means of communication had failed.

The Spanish minister, finally decided to send the Spanish naval attache to Antwerp with the notification. A report from American consul Diederich at Ostend says when he left Antwerp last Friday, after a frightful night of bombardment, the potroleum tanks in the city were ablaze. He is endeavoring to return to Antwerp to resume his consular work.

FUNERAL OF MRS. ANTHONY.

Services From Residence of Mr. J. D. Mote Yesterday Afternoon.

The funeral of Mrs. Julia Anthony, whose death occurred Sunday night at the home of her niece, Mrs. J. D. Mote, No. 716 North Fourth street, was conducted yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, from the residence by Rev. J. A. Sullivan, pastor of Southside Baptist church, assisted by Rev. T. G. Vickers, pastor of Bladen Street Methodist church. The interment was in Oakdale cemetery. The services were attended by a large number of friends and relatives.

The pall bearers were: Messrs. W. R. Smith, John Lewis, Geo. H. Ward, J. E. Silva and T. J. Rand.

ACCEPTS CALL TO CHURCH.

Former Pastor of Fourth Street Advent Church Will Return.

Rev. O. T. Mattox, former pastor of the Fourth Street Advent church, now of Lenoir, has replied to the call recently extended to him by this congregation stating that he has decided to accept the call and that he will be in position to return to Wilmington the latter part of Noyember. The members of the congregation will be much pleased to learn of his decision.

Mr. Mattox left Wilmington two years ago to go to Jacksonville, Fla., to take charge of a church in that city. Later he went to Lenoir and has since resided there, having charge of the Christian Advent church at that place.

Charged With Keeping Gambling Hous

Because it is alleged that he was keeping a gambling house at No. 1110 South Second street, Hays Walker, colored, was arrested yesterday morning by Policeman A. L. Long upon a warrant which was sworn out at the police station. Vance Moore, colored, who is also alleged to have gambled at the house of Walker, was arrested by policeman J. F. Jordan. The police department was notified Saturday that a gambling place was being conducted on South Second street but when Policeman Coleman arrived he only found two negroes there. The others had skipped, it was stated. The negroes arrested yesterday were at the court house attending the Recorder's court when they were picked up by the officers. The police are looking for several others for whom warrants have been sworn out.

BANKERS ARE BUSY IN VIRGINIA CITY

SECTIONAL SESSIONS

Committees in Numerous Sessions Yesterday Put Things in Readiness for Business This Morning—Delegates Still Coming.

Richmond, Oct. 12.—Committeemen in numerous meetings today cleared the way for the beginning of sectional sessions of the American Bankers Association tomorrow and the work of approving the report of the administrative commitee recommending an extensionof publicity and educational work. That plan accords with views expressed by many bankers that the association should pave the way for a better understanding of banking by business men and a better general comprehension of purposes of the new banking law. The council also expressed approval of the report of the work of the legal department of the association which has kept in close touch with the course of legislation affecting business duirng the last year.

Mort than 2,000 members of the association, representing practically every State, had arrived in Richmond tonight. Hundreds of them had spent the day in pilgrimages to historic places about the city while others were engaged with the preliminaries of committee meetings. It was estimated that the night's arrivals would bring the number of delegates up to 2,500.

That discussion of the convention and the sectional meetings would center largely about features of the new currency system was indicated today by many delegates. The way will be opened for that tomorrow at a joint session of the trust company and savings banks sections by an address on the 'future of State institutions under the Federal Reserve Act" by H. Parker Willis, secretary of the Federal Reserve Board. It was said, however, that Mr. Willis would speak, not as an official of the board, but as editor of a financial journal. It was indicated that additional discussion would be aroused by the address of resident Reynolds of the association, chairman Glass of the House Banking and Currency Committee and Governor Chas. S. Hamlin, of the Federal Reserve Board.

Many Disuce Emergencies.

Many incoming delegates indicated they were ready to discuss emergencies growing out of the European war, and several of the Southern bankers, it was said, would talk of the cotton situation. Reports of committees to the executive council largely were routine, it was announced. The council approved several amendments to the association's by-laws which will be submitted to the convention Wednesday. The report of the association's agricultural commission announced that "more than 55 per cent. of the members banks of this association have a capital of $25,000 or less and the capital of over 75 per cent. of the banks constituting this association membership is $100,000 or less. In other words, 90 per cent. are country banks and most of these are banker-farmers, directly or from a business standpoint vitally interested in agriculture and the farmers success.

"These percentages" the report continues, "the comparatively small size of the average bank, and the interdependence of these bankers and farmers, proves how little basis there is for 'buncombe' talk of the political agaitator and demagogic statesman, who would have you believe that bankers are all of great wealth with interests and motives diametrically opposed to those of their communities."

Country check collections were discussed at a meeting of bankers from the reserve cities late today.

Former Representative Martin Littleton, of New York, Representative Montague, of Virginia and Chairman Trumbull of the board of directors of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway were speakers at a dinner of the Council Club tonight.

STRONG SERMON LAST NIGHT.

Large Congregation Heard Rev. B. E. Stanfield at Bladen Street.

An unusually large congregation for Monday night heard Rev. B. E. Stanfield, at Bladen Street Methodist church, who preached a strong sermon from Revelations 3:30. He made an earnest plea that those present would open their hearts to Christ and that they would turn away from their sins. The sermon made a deep impression, and there were a dozen or more requests for prayer at the after service. One young lady made a public profession.

The services will continue through the week. There will be preaching this afternoon at 4 o'clock, and again tonight at 8 o'clock. The song and prayer service will begin at 7:45 o'clock. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Henry Gowdy's Name Will Go Down As Hero of 1914 World Series

DECISIVE PLAYS IN SATURDAY'S CONTEST

DEAD SLIDING INTO SECOND BASE.

SCHANG CAUGHT AT THIRD BY DEAD.

NERVE-RACKING GAME THRICE TIED BEFORE A FINAL DECISION CAME

Henry Gowdy, Brave Catcher, Gets Credit For Winning His Second Game Out of The Three Contests Played —The Game in Every Detail

Boston, Oct. 12.—The vast crowd had settled back some time before Umpire Klem called "Play ball!" Tyler was cheered as he walked to the pitching mound. Eddie Murphy, first up for the Athletics shot the ball down the left field foul line for two bases, to the great delight of the Athletic rooters. Oldring sacrificed, Tyler to Schmidt, advancing Murphy to third. Oldring sacrificed, Tyler to Schmidt, advancing Murphy to third. Murphy scored, when Collins drove a long fly to Connolly, in left field. Connolly dropped the ball, but Collins was credited with a sacrifice fly. Collins was held on first, as Baker struck out. Collins fiddled off the base until he caught sight of a slow pitch, and then stole second.

McInnis walked, and a moment later Collins was caught off second, taking a long lead, Tyler making a quick throw to Evers, ending the inning.

Moran Troubled Bush.

Bush, who started for the Athletics in the last world's series, when he won in a game against the New York Giants on the Polo Grounds, had trouble in disposing of Moran, Boston's first batter. He threw ten balls to the Braves' lead off man; three balls, two strikes, four fouls and then the pitch which Moran hit up into the air to Collins. Evers brought the Boston rooters to their feet by dashing a single into left field. Connolly lifted a high foul that Baker caught within a few inches of the players' bench. Evers caught second, but he was left there, as Whitted fell a victim to strikes.

The second inning of the American Leaguers was quickly over, Walsh, who was playing in center field, chopped a grounder at Tyler, who threw him out at first. Barry raised a foul which big Schmidt gathered in with effort. Schang put up a fly which Evers had to back out to right field to get.

Braves Tie It.

The National League champions tied up the score in their half of the inning, after two were out. Schmidt struck out on Bush's slow ball. Deal hoisted a fly to Baker; Maranville worked Bush for a base on balls, then stole second. He was not there long before Gowdy sent him home by a slashing two-base drive into the bleachers in left field. Tyler went out, Barry to McInnis.

The world's champions also went out in order in the third inning. Bush fouled out to Schmidt, and Murphy was retired on a sharply hit grounder, Evers to Schmidt; Oldring ended the inning by grounding out, Maranville to Schmidt.

Boston fared no better in its half of the third, as Baker scooped up Moran's grass cutter and tossed him out. Evers dropped a grounder to Bush and was also retired; Connolly gave Murphy a long fly in right field.

Athletics Score Again.

The Athletics made their second run in the fourth inning. After Collins had shot a hot liner at Evers, which the Boston captain held, Baker struck out for the second time and there was great cheering. McInnis hit into the left field bleachers for two bases. Connolly made a daring try for the ball. He leaped into the air, lost his balance and fell backward into the bleachers. He was out of sight for several seconds, but bobbed up unhurt. Walsh, like McInnis, waited until he was three and two and then slashed a single to left, bringing McInnis home. As McInnis was about to round third, Deal got in his way and both Harry Davis, who was on the coaching lines for the Athletics, and McInnis complained to Umpire Klem against Deal's alleged interference, but as McInnis had scored there was nothing for the umpire to decide. Barry grounded out, Deal to Schmidt, leaving Walsh on first.

Rooters Call for Runs.

With the Athletics having the advantage, the Boston rooters called for runs and the Braves responded by putting one across in their half of the fourth.

TWIRLED WELL

LESIE BUSH.

Whitted drove a hot grounder at Bush, which he could not hold. He managed to deflect it to Collins, who tossed the runner out in the nick of time. Schmidt delighted the home fans by pushing a fine single into center field, and the big first baseman rushed to second as Collins threw out Deal. The Boston shortstop hit a sharp ball that went down the right field line. It struck close to the chalk mark and shot against the pavilion fence, then caromed again. Schmidt raced home and Maranville also made the circuit, while Collins, Murphy and Walsh chased the ball.

Looked Fair, But Wasn't.

All this time Umpire Hildebrand was making frantic signals that the ball had struck foul. He pointed to a spot about an inch outside the line, while the crowd cheered, not realizing that the ball had been declared a foul. The Boston players appeared as much surprised as the fans. After some discussion, Maranville returned to the bat and Schmidt to second. The cheering was renewed when the little shortstop dropped a hit into right field on which Schmidt tied up the score. Maranville stole second and kept right on to third when Schang's throw to the middle bag to head the runner off went wild and rolled into centerfield.

Gowdy was passed to first and on an attempted double steal Maranville was out, Schang to Collins to Baker.

Athletics Get On.

The Athletics got a man on the paths in the fifth inning. Schang gave Moran a long fly. Deal ran in and picked up Bush's grounder and tossed him out, Bush making no effort to run to first. Murphy drove a smashing two bagger into left field, but got no further as Oldring struck out.

Quick Double Play.

Boston also got a man on in their half of the firth. After Tyler was thrown out, Bush to McInnis, and Moran was retired, Barry to McInnis, Evers got in his second hit, a scingle to left field. He got no further as Connolly went out Collins to McInnis. A quick double play by the famous Evers-Maranville--Schmidt route broke up the Athletics sixth inning. Collins singled down to third base and beat the throw to first. Baker grounded to Evers and Collins was doubled at second, Evers to Maranville and Baker was out, Maranville to Schmidt. McInnis hit to Deal and was thrown out.

A two base hit did not help Boston in the sixth. Whitted was thrown out, Bush to McInnis and Schmidt hit a fly which Oldring gathered in. Deal then slammed the ball into left field bleachers for two bases. He got no further, as Maranville hit a fly straight up in the air which Schang caught in front of the pitchers' box.

Tyler made short work of the White Elephant's in the seventh. Walsh fouled to Deal; Barry was thrown out Tyler to Schmidt, and Schang went out Evers to Schmidt.

The National Leaguers also went out in order in their half. Gowdy saw an easy out, Barry to McInnis, and Tyler struck out. Moran went out Barry to McInnie.

Pitchers Going Good.

Both pitchers were going fine and the eighth inning also was barren of results. Bush had great speed and frequently mixed this up with a slow ball while Tyler often used a slow curve. Bush was thrown out at first on fine fielding by Schmidt, who got an ugly ground ball far back of first and while off his balance tossed to Tyler who covered the bag. Murphy flied out to Whitted and Olding lifted one to Moran.

The Braves all went out at first in the eighth, Evers being thrown out by Bush and both Connolly and Whitted by Barry.

A Dramatic Moment.

The great excitement of the game began in the ninth, with the score a tie 2-2. There was cheering as Collins was thrown out on a fine stop by Maranville. The hearts of the Boston fans almost stopped beating as Baker drove a hot two bagger down the right field four line. Evers encouraged Tyler and there was cheering again when McInnis field out of Connolly and Baker was held on second. The Boston battery looked at the Boston bench and Welsh was purposely passed to first. Barry brought the inning to a close by sending a high foul to Gowdy.

Tension grew as Boston came in for the ninth. The crowd made a terrific din, but pitcher Bush apparently paid no attention to it. He pitched steady ball and Boston went out in order.

The Big Inning.

Then came the big inning of the game in which the contest was apparently lost to Boston and then again saved. Schang shot a single into left field. Bush struck out. Murphy chopped a grounder to Tyler wos elected to get the nearest man, Schang, at second. But the throw was too late and both the Athletic catcher at second and Murphy at first were safe. Both runners were advanced on Oldring's out at first, Tyler touching the ball as it shot by him to Evers who gathered it in and made the throw. Collins walked. With the bases full, the mighty Baker came to bat. He crouched over the plate and swung his bat back and forth. Tyler kept his head and soon had two strikes on the heavy hitter. Baker smashed the next one at Evers with such force that it almost knocked him down. Before the Brave's second baseman could recover himself Schang had flashed across the plate. Evers held the ball a moment and Murphy, who had rounded third, kept on, scoring without Evers making an attempt to head him off. There was great joy on the Athletics bench. McInnis ended the inning by sending a long fly to Whitted.

Then Came Gowdy.

With two runs to the rear and Bush pitching gilt edged ball, things looked bloomy for Boston. Gowdy walked to the plate, waited and caught a straight ball which he lifted into the bleachers far off in centerfield. "Josh" Devore was sent in to bat for Tyler. He struck out. There were cheers when Moran walked and there was a great outburst when he reached to third on Evers' third single of the game. The crowd frantically yelled to Connolly to tie the score. The Athletic fielders backed out toward the fences. The Brave's greatest hitter rapped a long sacrifice fly to Walsh and Moran came home with the tieing run. Whitted ended it when he expired on first.

Enter Big Bill James.

James went in to pitch for Boston in the eleventh, in which neither side scored. It was getting quick dark when the Braves came to the bat in their half of the twelfth inning. Gowdy whose terrific hitting in the past has made him a tremendous favorite, threw the Boston rooters into another frenzy as he collered one of Bush's shoots and poled it into left filed bleachers for two bases. The Athletics appeared to be playing for time for they slowly walked into their positions for the next batter. Stallings sent Mann in to run for Gowdy and Gilbert was ordered to the plate to bat for James. Gilbert was passed purposely, Bush and then came the play that broke the game.

Moran bunted a slow grounder toward third. Bush dashed over, scooped up the ball and shot it to Baker to head off Mann. The throw, however, was wild. The ball shot down the left side of the field outside the fould line and Mann raced home with the run that gave Boston its third straight victory. It was doubtful it Bush could have headed off Mann at third even had the throw been accurate.

throw that closed the contest, Catcher Schang was charged with an error for the Athletics. Bush in 12 innings struck out four and walked an unusual number of Boston batters. Tyler struck out four and passed three Mackmen in ten innings, while James fanned one and walked three in his two periods on the mound.

The Fielding Honors.

Fielding honors were divided by Baker, with two successive stops and throws in the ninth inning, and Schmidt, who in the eighth inning stopped Bush's drive along the base line with one hand and while prone on the ground threw the runner out at first. Connolly contributed the Braves' only error when he dropped Collins' hoist in the opening inning.

A record Boston world's series crowd witnessed the game, 35,520 persons paying $62,308 to pass through the turnstilesinto the park. Of this sum, the National Commission took $6,380.80; the players received $34,456.32, and the club owners $11,485.44. Had the capacity of Fenway Park been greater these figures would have been considerably increased. The bleacher gates were opened at 9 o'clock and the long rows of fans, many of whom had stood in line all night, filed through so rapidly that within less than two hours the gates were closed with several thousands still clamoring for admission.

Weather conditions were favorable. The sky was partly overcast and while a stiff wind blew, the stands cut off the strength of the blast.

Philly Hears Death Knell.

Philadelphia, Oct. 12.—Such enthusiasm as the Athletic supporters previously had not had occasion to manifest during the present championship series, gave way today to a profound silence when the final flash showed the Boston Braves the victors for the third successive time. When Murphy and Schang dashed across the plate in the 10th inning, giving the Mackmen a two run lead, a mighty shout went up from the thousands of fans who were watching the progress of the game as displayed on electric score boards in many parts of the city. Efforts of the police to preserve order were futile.

Even when Gowdy slammed the ball for a home run in Boston's half of the 10th the crowds did not become disheartened, but when the Braves again tied the score, confidence in the Mackmen seemed to waver. When the end came expressions that "It seems to be nearly all over" could be heard from every side.

Three to one was being offered here tonight that Boston would win the series, with few takers. There were several wagers mode, however, on tomorrow's game at even money and 10 to 8 in favor of Boston.

URGES GRAIN DEALERS TO JOIN "BUY-A-BALE" MOVE

President of Association Declares Cotton at Ten Cents Good Investment

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 12.—Charles D. Jones, Nashville, Tenn., president of the Grain Dealers National Association in annual convention here today urged every farmer and every dealer in grain producing states to join the "Buy-a-Bale of Cotton" movement.

Many planters cannot raise enough money on what they have already gained to pay for picking that part of their crop not already harvested, he said. Joining the "Buy-a-Bale of Cotton" movement does not mean giving away $50, but rather investing that sum with an opportunity to make good interest on the investment.

"The southern farmers are the best domestic customers grain men have" he added.

OFFICERS DROWNED IN BEHRING SEA

Boat From Federal Cutter Overturned And Six Men Lost.

Washington, Oct. 12.—Assistant Surgeon L. W. Jenkins, United States Public Health Service; Coxswain Demarco, Seaman Dalsgard, Seaman Lundhaug, and Seaman Keely, and Luke Louks were drowned off Cape Sariches, Behring Sea, Saturday, when a boat from the cutter Manning was swamped in Unalga Pass. A wireless message to that effect was received today by the revenue cutter service from the commanded of the Behring Sea fleet. Coxswain Demarco was one of the crew of the Tahoma, who were rescued when that ship was wrecked recently.

Fiery Blood Disorders Checked

The Sources of Disease are Cleaned and Blood Purified

Those who have used S. S. S. marvel at the way it checks blood diseases. See a man today with his skin all broken out; see him again in a week or two after using S. S. S. and he is a wonder to behold, all cleared up, skin healthy, eyes bright, a big smile replaces the droop. What is S. S. S. that can accomplish such wonderful results? First of all it is a natural medicine. Like milk, eggs and other foods that can not be imitated, S. S. S. owes it to Nature for its power to overcome disease just as food prevents emaciation. S. S. S. is not a combination of prescription drugs. It is a preparation direct from medicinal plants that retains all the virile potency of what we need, what we must have in the blood to counteract those destructive tendencies that assail us throughout life. If it were not for our natural secretions to sustain us, aided by such known helps as S. S. S. there would be small chance of any of us surviving childhood.

Get a bottle of S. S. S. today from any druggist but be careful to avoid the substitutes palmed off on the unwary. S. S. It's Verdun's "next."

Take care of yourself while you can.

Most of us don't want others to hoard money.

There is no delectability in the deluted war news.

Portugal and Italy should keep up with the news.

Even a good dog will go around following a no good master.

One fellow's militarism should be as execrable as the other's.

"Ireland is depended on to fight" Who had any suspicions to the contrary?

Richmond had a fall during the Civil War but that beloved city got over it.

It is said "we have more money than we ever had before." This isn't personal.

Fall openings are now in full blast. On the stump campaign orators have opened up.

"Veil over Russian operations" says the censored news. Have their operations become unavailing?

The French soldier who received 90 wounds in battle must have remained too long in front of a machine gun.

None of them have been big enough to hold down the cotton situation. Some jobs are bigger than a whole job lot of men.

This is supposed to be Indian Summer but the colored individual's summer is a long about July when watermelons are ripe.

The average man says he is absolutely neutral but he doesn't enjoy being neutral when his side is getting the worst of it.

The Sultan of Turkey has appointed Essad Pasha as ruler of Albania but the prabability is that he will make Essad failure of it.

Every one of the practical plans for handilling the cotton situation are dependent on the availability of warehouse storage for the staple.

There is no truth in the story that our old friend Monsieur Mumm, who makes Mumm's Extra Dry, has been shot as a spy. Even if this is "extra dry" territory, the news is gratifying.

There is a Georgia yarn to the effect that a farmer has a chicken which has grown a cotton-like coat of fur instead of feathers. However, that's not the only "chicken" that will wear cotton.

An Indiana man claims that he has bought an automobile with money saved by shaving himself and letting his wife cut his hair for the last fifty years. In addition to that it's more than likely that he saved money by letting his friends pay for the drinks.

"Militarism must be crushed" is the slogan. Meanwhile, the militarism of one side is doing its best to crush that of the other. It takes two militaristic outfits to make a terrific fight, and it is owing to whose militarism each individual wants crushed. Each sympathizer wants his militarism to survive the clash.

Advertising is letting people know you are holding an impregnable line of business. An advertisement probably written is real news that you have necessary and desirable articles for sale. When the censor stops the supply of news from Europe, people don't know what the armies are doing. When a merchant stops advertising, people have no way of knowing what he is doing. It's all right for armies to entrench but they hold on to their noisemakers. It's all right for a merchant to retrench but cutting out his noisemakers is poor economy. So long as a store door is open for business a merchant should at least advertise the fact. When times get tight loosen them up by an advertisement. An "ad" is simply business news.

JURISDICTION OVER THE SEA.

Illustrated Shipping raises the interesting point as to how far out to sea the jurisdiction of a country extends. Heretofore all nations have agreed that three miles from shore is the territory of the country which fronts on the high sea. Some countries, however, insist that their jurisdiction extends beyond the three-mile limit, and the probability is that after the present European war is over, there will have to be an international agreement to readjust the matter.

This discussion has arisen over the difficulty attending the removal of the German ship Kronprinzessin Cecilie from Bar Harbor, Me., to Portland, Boston or New York. This contemplated movement of that big ship is because of the fact that a vessel of the size of the Kronprincessin would not be safe during the winter in such an exposed anchorage as that at Bar Harbor. However, an international question is involved in taking the ship to a safer haven, and the points raised are stated by Illustrated Shipping as follows:

"It is probable that among other doubtful points of international law which may be cleared up as a result of the war, is that very complex one of the extent of maritime jurisdiction of the nation possessing the coast. The case upon which this momentous point is resting is that of the German liner Kronprinzessin Cecilie, interned at Bar Harbor, Me., in the custody of the United States marshal, under orders of the United States court, the ship having been arrested following an action for breach of a contract of carriage entered against it upon her return to this country with a large sum of gold specie undelivered. Bar Harbor is not a safe anchorage for a ship of the size of the Kronprinzessin Cecilie to lie at during winter months, and it has been proposed to send the ship either to Portland, Boston or New York, but British cruisers are patrolling the coast and as a vessel of the size of the German liner must, of necessity, go beyond the three-mile limit in the course of such a voyage along the coast, it is feared that she may be captured at sea. On the other hand, should the German ship sail out of port for the purpose of shifting to a safe berth and later turn up elsewhere in the capacity of an armed cruised, there is every possibility that our government would find itself saddled with a claim similar to that successfully advanced by the United States in the historic 'Alabama' case. It has been suggested that a warship of the United States fleet be sent to convoy the liner when she shifts to a safe harbor, but a lot of diplomatic work will have to be undertaken before it becomes absolutely safe for the Kronprinzessin Cecilie to leave Bar Harbor, even under escort."

Beyond the three-mile limit the sea is considered the open sesame of all nations. Nevertheless, nations have had great wars and no end of jealousy over the one matter of dominating the sea. Who is "mistress of the sea"? The song has it that "Britania rules the waves," and until the maritime nations agree about it, the old rule of "might makes right" will hold good beyond the three-mile limit.

The supposedly arbitrary limit of jurisdiction of a country to three miles from land is based upon an ancient legal understanding that the method of fixing the extent of water jurisdiction was to restrict it to the farthest distande at which a projectile fired from a cannon on shore is able to hit a ship at sea. The range of cannon in days gone by was three miles, but now that the utmost effective range of high power guns in the United States is 12 miles, Illustrated Shipping suggests that sea jurisdiction should be extended to at least 12 miles from shore.

As a matter of fact, it should extend 25 to 50 miles out so as to protect commerce as well as the shore. A battle between German and British ships within three miles of the shore at Wrightsville Beach would endanger that North Carolina seaside resort, while a battle within the regular sea lane for coastwise shipping would endanger vessels engaged in the peaceful pursuit of commerce.

If nations will fight they ought to go out into the open sea to plug at each other's ships. However, it would be better for all nations to agree that the ocean is no fit place to fight. Nevertheless, Illustrated Shipping says, the matter of jurisdiction over any part of the sea is intimately connected with the sovereignty of the seas in general, over which question "more blood has been spilled than over any other form of tyranical assumption among men."

Man fights on, over, above and about both sea and land, and today nations are jealous of each other as to their proprietorship, zone of influence and jurisdiction on both land and sea.

THE BATTLEFIELD IN THE EAST.

While we have been shuddering at the titanic conflict of the nations raging from the Marne to the Aisne, in France, we get no particulars of the great battles between the Germans and Austrians with Russia in the eastern theatre of war.

According to Russian reports some weeks ago, rather doubtful authority it is true, the greatest battle of the war and of all history was fought by the Russians and Austrians in Galicia. While that is doubtful, it nevertheless is true that from northeast Germany to Galicia, in the southeast, the fighting has been terrific.

We have just read the account of an eye-witness who graphically describes the defeat administered to the Russians by the Germans at the battle of Wirballen, in Russian Poland. The Russians were on the aggressive and fought desperately, but their lines were crumpled by the Germans and beaten back with frightful losses. The correspondent describes the Russians' charge as "a wave of humanity broke on the wall of steel" as the Russians charged at Wirballen.

According to a Russian statement, that country has nearly twice as many soldiers as the French and British have in the western war theatre. According to the Philadelphia Record, statements from Petrograd give 3,000,000 as the number of men engaged in the battle now raging along the Vistula in Poland and Galicia. This sounds like exaggeration, and probably is so. The armies of Generals Russky and Brussilow consist of ten or eleven army corps. In the operations against the Austrians in Lublin 12 other Russian corps were drawn from the Warsaw army, making 23 corps in all. General Rennekamph has at least seven corps in his command, and these must necessarily be held in front of the Germans in East Prussia. The Russian field army consists of 37 corps, and some part of this force is required to protect the Baltic Provinces, the Caucasus, Turkestan and Eastern Siberia. The combined Russian armies of Warsaw and Galicia probably do not exceed in strength 25 corps of 35,000 men each, or a total of 900,000 men. The Austrians had about 650,000 in the field in Lublin and Galicia, and, allowing for wastage they cannot greatly exceed 500,000 men at this time. If Germany has as many troops on the Vistula the number engaged on both sides cannot exceed 2,000,000, and is probably much less than that.

Momentous events are taking place in the eastern war theatre as well as in France and Belgium, but the censors have so completely shut out the horrors that we only know that the Russians are making tremendous efforts against the Germans and Austrians along a line which covers 400 miles of battle front.

APPLE MOLASSES.

There is a new use for apples, if they are grown in North Carolina in sufficient quantity for growers to avail themselves of a so-called government discovery to turn them into syrup, or "molasses," as the Charlotte Observer terms it. Our esteemed contemporary makes this interesting editorial observation in this connection:

"In former years the surplus crop of apples was converted into brandy or cider, but prohibition broke both wings of that industry. It has now been discovered that a fine quality of molasses, or table syrup, may be made from apples, and for the process the United States Department of Agriculture has applied for what it calls a "public service" patent. The product is said to be an amber colored fluid of about the consistency of maple syrup and goes well with buckwheat cakes. We do not understand, however, why the Government should protect this process by patent. A thing of that sort should be the common property of the people, but perhaps the Government is merely using caution to see that the new industry is started out in the right way. It ought to be popular in North Carolina—except in Nash county."

Why molasses? Why any patent on any process for making syrup out of products containing saccharine juices? Such processes are as old as Ann, but, of course, there are processes and processes. Didn't Editor Harris ever partake of persimmon molasses? We have, right over in Gaston county, just opposite Charlotte, beyond the Catawba river.

All saccharine constituents can be converted into syrups, and then into sugar. Baked apples "candy" and so do sugar-laden Norton yams, which grow to such perfection in Eastern North Carolina. The sugar simply exudes on account of the chemical action produced by heat, and there you are. Of course, fine syrup can be made from the cider of apples, but a better product still is apple jelly or apple butter, both of which keep indefinitely when properly canned. "We" have just finished putting up a fine article of both — "Made in Wilmington" from North Carolina apples.

We will have to learn to know what to do with our products instead of letting them go to waste on our hands. What is the matter with the general canning and preserving proposition in North Carolina?

WAR'S HEAVY COST FOR THE SOUTH.

A friend sends the Star the statement of an eminent scholar in the North, emphasizing the rather startling fact that the monetary loss of the South during the first sixty days of the pan-European war has been twice as heavy per capita of population in the South as has been the cost per capita of population in France during the first 60 days of the present gigantic conflict of the nations.

A few days ago the French government estimated that it had cost that country up to October 1st $7,000,000 a day, aggregating a total of $420,000,000, whereas the South's loss on 15,000,000 bales of cotton at $30 per bale would be $450,000,000. That loss of the South is not inclusive of Virginia, Missouri and California, which States produce only insignificant amounts of cotton. The population of the "Cotton States" of the South is almost exactly half that of France.

We can realize how heavily the war has hit the South when it is known that for every dollar the war has cost the French people per capita, the people of the South have lost more than two dollars on cotton alone. Yet when we take into consideration the other immense losses of the South in a business and industrial way, we begin to appreciate the strain, whoch war has put upon our people while they were at peace. However, peace is worth the money.

What has become of the old fashioned gentleman who used to do his best to sing "Grandfather's Clock?"

CURRENT COMMENT.

Col. Walker Taylor, collector of the port of Wilmington, finds that receipts at that port foot up $12,162 for the quarter just ended, against $1,679 for the same period last year, a gain of 13.8 per cent, notwithstanding the war. Colonel Taylor contends that much of the supposed depression is supposed in fact, that it is mostly "psychological," as President Wilson once said. We are inclined to believe with Colonel Taylor that conditions are not as bad as the disturbed imagination of the people makes them, and after we have passed through the scare we will be able to look back and see quite clearly where they have been magnified. The country may be slow about it, but it is going to come out of the present situation all right and in shape to face such an era of prosperity as will enable it to forget past woes.—Charlotte Observer.

It is difficult to blame the women who have been insisting that this country try to do something even in the face of seemingly insuperable difficulties to bring peace in Europe. Women would not be women did they not look with especial horror and dismay on the dreadful occurrences now of daily frequency on the bloodstained soil of France and Belgium and the Eastern war arena. One paper urges the women to stop nagging the President, but the President's great heart must needs be touched, and there can be no impatience in his mind as the result of the importanities of those who do not fully comprehend the difficulties which stand in the way of a restoration of peace.—Raleigh News and Observer.

FARMER AND POLITICIAN.

Former Chews Tobacco and Laughs at Frantic Efforts of Latter.

(Charity and Children.)

A great deal more fuss than was necessary has been made over the pitiful condition of the poor farmer, who is holding his cotton, chewing his tobacco and laughing at the frantic efforts the politicians are making to save him. The various plans that have been put forward for the rescue of the farmer from eternal ruin has frightened capital, and well night destroyed business. It is simply hysteria caused by the war. Men have lost their heads and their reason and have made direful predictions of woe and ruin. The brethren who are looking out for political jobs have been foremost in their efforts to safeguard the horny-handed tiller of the soil. The tender solicitude of these gentlemen for the aforesaid tiller has been heart-rending. They want the State to do everything, forgetting that all their lives they have preached the doctrine to these same people that the State can do nothing, and that "those are governed best who are governed least." A very astute and intelligent observer of current events, deploring the paternalism advocated by so-called leaders writes us: "Of course, if the State could issue bonds, bonds, bonds, and then some, either buy or warehouse all the cotton, salted peanuts, cried herring and all kindred commodities, all hands would be happy for a while at least. Hysteria caused by overworked paternalism is the present trouble. Somebody is sowing a big crop of political dragon's teeth that will probably puncture tires later on." We are glad to see bright indications of returning reason. The Mecklenburg gentlemen who wanted the Governor to call an extra session of the Legislature that has already seen extra service, are now glad, no doubt, that Governor Craig had sense enough not to heed their request. We have never had any serious emergency in the cotton situation. The war that suddenly burst upon the world did demoralize the markets for a time, but Europe is spinning cotton right along and will need more this year than ever before because of the war. Soldiers chew as much tobacco as any other class, if not a little more, and so the tobacco crop will fetch a good price. Within 30 days' time everything will be going on the same as if the Germans were building battleships instead of using them, and all the "plans" that have been put forth at great labor and much burning of the midnight oil, will be in the air. Cotton will not bring a high price, not on account of the war, but because the crop is the most enormous one the South ever grew. The "buy-a-bale" movement for the protection of poor men who were forced to sell, is the only feasible and needful plan for helping the farmer that we have seen. Those men who desired above all things to become benefactors of the farmers in order to command their votes on election day, have done the country much harm, and we hope before it is all over they will learn a lesson that will last a lifetime.

WALLACE CLAIMS RECORD.

Entire Day's Tobacco Sales Average $14.90 Per Hundred.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Wallace, N. C., Oct. 12.—The Wallace tobacco warehouse today made a record, which, doubtless, has not been equaled this season by any warehouse in the State. The entire sale averaged $14.90 per 100 pounds, although there was several thousand pounds of sand lugs, which sold for $4.00 to $5.00 per 100.

Both warehouses had good sales, in spite of the heavy rains which have fallen all day.

The numerous tobacco farmers who are continually bringing tobacco to this market are daily leaving perfectly satisfied at the prices received.

STOMACH TROUBLES

Mr. Ragland Writes Interesting Letter on This Subject.

Madison Heights, Va.—Mr. Chas. A. Ragland, of this place, writes: "I have been taking Thedford's Black-Draught for indigestion, and other stomach troubles, also colds, and find it to be the very best medicine I have ever used.

After taking Black-Draught for a few days, I always feel like a new man."

Nervousness, nausea, heartburn, pain in pit of stomach, and a feeling of fullness after eating, are sure symptoms of stomach trouble, and should be given the proper treatment, as your strength and health depend very largely upon your food and its digestion.

To get quick and permanent relief from these ailments, you should take a medicine of known curative merit.

Its 75 years of splendid success, in the treatment of just such troubles, proves the real merit of Thedford's Black-Draught. Safe, pleasant, gentle in action, and without bad after-effects, it is sure to benefit both young and old. For sale everywhere. Price 25c. N. C. 121.

LEND APPROVAL TO COTTON POOL PLAN

Referred to State Bankers at Richmond, Va., This Week

Proposed $150,000,000 Syndicate Discussed at Meeting Held Here Yesterday—Visiting Bankers in Attendance.

In a resolution adopted at the end of a two hous and a half discussion, a meeting of members of the executive committee of the North Carolina Bankers Association, of the North Carolina Currency Association and local bankers, business men and manufacturers, held in the quarters of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday, went on record as approving the plan of Mr. F. J. Wade, of St. Louis, to form a pool of $150,000,000 as an additional means of relieving the present cotton situation, and recommended to the members of the North Carolina Bankers Association in attendance on the meeting of the American Bankers Association at Richmond this week, that a meeting be held there to decide whether or not North Carolina will raise her share estimated to be about $3,500,000, and thus bring into the State an additional $10,000,000 to care for distressed cotton.

Called by President Thos. E. Cooper, of the North Carolina Bankers' Association, the meeting was intended to be a session of the executive committee of that organization, to which other prominent bankers and manufacturers from this State and South Carolina had been invited, but on account of the fact that many of the bankers have already left for Richmond to attend the meeting of the American Bankers' Association there, a quorum of the Executive Committee was not present. The meeting therefore resolved itself into an informal discussion of the Wade syndicate plan, and all phases of the subject were threshed out before the action indicated above was taken.

The visiting bankers in attendance yesterday were: Mr. Jos. G. Brown, of Raleigh(president of the North Carolian National Currency Association; Mr. Geo. A. Holderness, of Tarboro, ex-president of the North Carolina Bankers' Association; Mr. Wm. A. Hunt of Henderson and Mr. W. B. Drake, of Raleigh, all members of the Executive Committee of the North Carolina Bankers' Association. Mr. C. E. Taylor, Jr., of Wilmington, another member of the Executive Committee, was present.

President Cooper presided at the meeting and Secretary W. A. Hunt was at his post, assisted by stenographer to keep a record of the proceedings.

Because of the fact that the banks of the State will have to subscribe most of North's Carolina's contribution of $3,500,000 toward the syndicate, if it is decided to enter into the plan, it was the sense of the meeting that the North Carolina Bankers' Association was the proper body to take definite action on the proposition. Most of those present at the meeting yesterday were heartily in favor of Mr. Wade's plan as it has been outlined, but there were several who objected because the money loaned by the syndicate would be at ahigher rate than the legal six per cent; or because of a possible difficulty in the banks attempting to raise $3,500,000 at the present time, or a possibility that the public might think that when the syndicate had been organized and begun operations, that all that was necessary had been done in meeting the problem presented by the cotton situation, and be inclined to rest content without further effort toward relief measures, which, it was admitted, would be disastrous.

In calling the meeting to order, President Cooper presented Mr. Jos. G. Brown, of Raleigh, president of the North Carolina National Currency Association, stating that Mr. Brown would explain the Wade plan to the meeting.

Mr. Brown outlined the plan, which has been printed before, and which, briefly stated, contemplates that a pool of $150,000,000 be raised to care for distressed cotton. New York City will be expected to furnish $50,000,000; the East and West $50,000,000 and the South $50,000,00. This fund will be distributed through banks acting as syndicate agencies in the South, each cotton producing State getting an amount based on the production of cotton, it being estimated that North Varolina's share would be $10,000,000. The money would be loaned upon uniform negotiable warehouse receipts, all loans made for a term of one year, with the privilege of a six months renewal and still a second renewal, subject to the approval for the syndicate management. An interest rate of 7 per cent will be charged, and in addition to this a charge of one-tenth of one per cent per month to pay the expreses of the syndicate, thus making the total interest charge per year eight and one-fifth per cent.

Headquarters of the syndicate, said Mr. Brown, wuold be located in New York, and its management would be in the hands of J. P. Morgan & Company, he understood, though this announcement had not been authoritatively made as yet.

The idea was not a money making one, Mr. Brown explained, and money would be loaned to anyone owing a bale of cotton.

Mr. H. C. McQueen, president of the Murchison National Bank, brought up the question as to whether a rate of interest higher than 6 per cent could legally be charged in North Carolina, stating that before this State went into the proposed syndicate it would be well to look into this important feature.

Mr. Brown replied that theoretically the State banks charge only 6 per cent, but as a matter of fact most money loaned in North Carolina brings more than 6 per cent, and that in times of panics it had always been the custom to raise the rates of interest, the law closing its eyes to a technical violation of the law out of consideration for the fact that even at a higher rate than the legal, the money was a relief to those borrowing.

At the request of Mr. Brown, Secretary Hunt read a statement from Mr. Wade, setting forth the reasons, as he saw them, for the adoption of such a measure looking toward the relief of a critical situation with reference to financing the cotton crop. A letter was also read from Mr. J. P. Matthews, cashier of the Palmetto National Bank, of Columbia, S. C., who attended a conference at St. Louis with Mr. Wade, and who endorsed the proposition.

Mr. Brown reported that the bankers of South Carolina have already endorsed the movement, and at his request a letter sent out by Capt. E. W. Matthews, president of the National Loan & Exchange Bank, of Columbia, to all banks in the state, recommending that they subscribe to the pool, was read by Secretary Hunt.

In answer to questions from Mr. W. B. Drake, of Raleigh, Mr. Brown stated that no bank or individual subscribing to the syndicate will be responsible for an amount larger than the individual subscription, and also that not over six cents a pound will be loaned on cotton by the syndicate.

It was brought to the attention of the meeting that an impression prevails on the part of the public that the Wade plan is advanced with the idea of supplanting all other cotton relief measures, and that if this was the case, the people generally would be inclined to look on the matter, in the event the syndicate is organized and put in operation, as if all had been done that was necessary, and that no further effort would be needed. As the syndicate plan really brings into the South only $100,000,000—the South itself furnishing the other $50,000,000—it was pointed out that this amount would be wholly inadequate to care for the whole crop, less what was actually consumed, and that steps should be taken to correct such an impression.

It was also brought out that it is hoped to get the plan in operation by November 1st, which will probably be before the Federal Reserve funds are available.

President Cooper read a letter from Col. Jno. F. Bruton, of Wilson, a director of the Richmond Reserve Bank, regretting his inability to attend the meeting and stating that the Wade plan appealed to him strongly.

Mr. Brown mentioned the fact that thus far only about $3,000,000 of the money made available to North Carolina through the Currency Association had been issued, while the total amount available is about $70,000,000. The same was true of other Southern States, and the chief difficulty presenting itself was that the banks do not present the proper kind of collateral for the money they wish to borrow. The character of the warehouses and the receipts offered are not up to standard in many cases.

Mr. J. V. Grainger, vice president of the Murchison National Bank, brought out the difficulties of getting money through the Currency Association because of the many requirements of the act. All applications must be passed upon by the association to see that all conditions as to capital, bonds, prior liens, etc., have been met with, even though the banks that offer them are amply able to protect any paper they endorse. Mr. Brown replied that this was true with many of the banks, while as to others it was necessary to be very careful in passing upon such collateral.

Mr. M. F. H. Gouverneur, of this city, a director of the Richmond Reserve Bank, was present and upon invitation of President Cooper made a short talk, stating that he came to the meeting to familiarize himself with the views of the North Carolina bankers relative to the Wade plan, in order to communicate them to a meeting of the Richmond Board to be held Thursday. He also suggested that each community organize a guarantor feature in connection with its clearing house association, to guarantee the warehouse

TO BUILD NEW CHURCH HERE

Seventh Day Adventists Pledge Nearly Eight Hundred Dollars for a House of Worship.

Members of a large congregation who heard Rev. Carlyle B. Haynes preach in the tent at the corner of Third and Castle streets Sunday night pledged themselves to give between $700 and $800 for the erection of a Seventh Day Advent church in Wilmington. Following his sermon, which was on the Millenium, Mr. Haynes called for subscriptions and nearly a thousand people responded.

He had a large blackboard brought forward on which were marked one hundred squares. Each of these squares, he said, represented ten dollars and he then asked how many would promise to be responsible for one of the blocks. Mr. W. W. King made the first subscription, this being for $100. Others followed until there was nearly $700 subscribed, many of these being for small amounts. After the service a gentleman came forward and made a $100 pledge for the structure.

Several in the audience said that they could not make cash subscriptions but that they would be glad to give their services when the time came for building a church. A carpenter said that he would give his time in carpenter work on the edifice, another man promised to give his time in plastering, another in painting and still another in tinning it.

The meetings at the tent have been going on now for six weeks and Mr. Haynes announced Sunday night that the services would continue through this week and possibly longer.

The subjects to be presented were announced as follows: Tuesday night, "The Two Laws"; Wednesday night, "The Ordinance of Humility"; Thursday night, "The Gift of Prophecy"; Friday night, "The Gift of Prophecy."

BEFORE THE RECORDER.

Negro Given Three Months on County Roads for Selling Whiskey.

Willie Smith, alias Kim Hamilton, colored, was ordered sent to the county roads for three months by the Recorder yesterday morning, on a charge of violating the prohibition law. Final judgment, however, was held open until this morning, and the sentence may be changed. Herbert Cunningham, Flossie Allen and Willie Berry, all colored, were found not guilty of violating the prohibition law. Judgment was suspended upon payment of the costs in a case against Sam. Deese, colored, on a similar charge. The case against Eugene Brown, colored, for selling whiskey, was continued until October 17th. Being unable to give bond for $100, he went to jail.

Judgment was suspended upon payment of the costs in a case against Rufus Howard, colored, charged with gambling. Willie Berry, colored, was found not guilty of vagrancy. Edward Livingston, a colored boy, charged with jumping on and off street cars while in motion, was discharged, on account of his youthfulness.

Willie Spicer, colored, was required to pay the costs for violating the driving ordinance. William Underwood, colored, paid the costs for riding a bicycle on the streets at night without a light. Prayer for judgment was continued upon payment of the costs in case against Mack Oliver, colored, charged with larceny. He was unable to pay the costs, and was ordered to be sent to the county roads for 30 days in default.

CITY SCHOOLS ARE CROWDED

Outside Pupils Cannot be Admitted Even Upon Payment of Tuition. Runabout for Superintendent.

Owing to the crowded conditions in the Wilmington graded schools, Supt. John J. Blair was yesterday instructed by the Board of Education at its regular monthly meeting not to allow children from outside the districts to attend the schools, either upon payment of tuition or otherwise. This rule, however, will not apply to eighth grade pupils living in districts where there is no eighth grade nor to High School pupils.

The proposition was discussed from every standpoint by the Board and it was decided that the breaking of the rule by allowing pupils to go out of their own districts into others has two serious effects, the first being that it is jeopardizing to any school to have its rules broken by having their pupils taken away and the second being that it is not fair to children in a district to be crowded by those outside the district so that it is impossible for them to do their best work.

Those present at the meeting of the board yesterday afternoon were Chairman J. O. Carr and Mr. B. Solomon, members of the board; Prof. Washington Catlett, county superintendent of education, and Mr. John J. Blair, superintendent of the city schools. Mr. J. G. L. Gieschen, the other member of the board, was out of the city and could not attend.

At a meeting of the school committee of the Union school on Friday, Superintendent Blair reported to the board, the matter of admitting pupils from without the district upon payment of the tuition was discussed. It was decided that it would not be practicable or just to patrons to admit any tuition pupils to the school and a resolution was adopted instructing Mr. Blair to notify the parents of such pupils that they shall not longer continue in the Union school with the exception of eighth grade pupils, living in other districts that do not provide for eighth grade work.

Superintendent Blair reported that in the High School every room is occupied, the building being filled to its utmost capacity, there being 386 pupils in the High School department proper and 28 eighth grade girls from the Hemenway school in a special class. The total enrollment of white pupils at the close of last week was 2,654 and of colored pupils 952.

The Southside school with 11 rooms has an enrollment of 486, or 44 to the room. The Northside with seven rooms has 347 pupils, or 50 to the room, which has been reduced by putting a class in the auditorium. The Isaac Bear school with six rooms has 284 pupils, or 64 to the room. The Union school, with 21 rooms, has 905 pupils or 43 to the room. This school is being used to take care of the excess which is gradually increasing all over the city.

With conditions as they are, it is impossible to admit children out of their respective districts without crowding out or inconveniencing children who are in their districts and who are entitled to first consideration. Many children in the city are already in rented quarters and it is felt that they should have the preference over non-residents, if there were room in the school buildings.

The school committee of Winter Park school was authorized by the board to rent temporarily a building to accommodate the excess of children. The question of building an annex to the present school building was postponed until the next meeting on account of the absence of Mr. Gieschen. Mr. J. F. Leitner, the architect, was requested in the meantime to draw plans for the annex so that in the event the board shall decide to make this arrangement, work can begin at the earliest possible moment.

The purchase of a runabout to be used jointly by Superintendents Blair and Catlett at a cost not to exceed $500 was authorized. The machine is to be used until 2 P. M. by Mr. Blair in visiting the city schools and in the afternoon by Mr. Catlett in visiting the county schools. The board felt that in view of the great saving of time that could be effected by using the machine that its purchase will be well worth while. Mr. Blair has seven schools with approximately 90 rooms under his supervision while Mr. Catlett has general supervision of 28 schools in the county.

The board ordered that the construction of a school building for Myrtle Grove should be proceeded with at once.

MAKES ESCAPE FROM CAMP.

Negro Then Came to City and Terrorized His Wife at Her Home.

After making his escape from the Federal Point conviot camp late Saturday afternoon, Dave Taylor, colored, who was sent six weeks ago to the county roads to serve nine months on a charge of larceny, came to Wilmington and Sunday night went to the home of his wife in Brown's alley, and after terrorizing her by cutting up the bed clothes and tearing up the household furniture, finally left for parts unknown.

Taylor's wife appeared at the police station yesterday morning and asked that she be protected. This was the first notice that the police had received that Taylor had regained his liberty, it is stated. Policeman J. J. Moore called up the Federal Point Camp and got the particulars of his escape. According to what he was told, the negro was disorderly Saturday afternoon. He was in charge of a guard, but in some way managed to give him the dodge.

Taylor is alleged to have stolen a lot of household furniture from a colored woman living in this city about two months ago. He was tried by the Recorder and given nine months on a charge of larceny.

How To Eradicate All Superfluous Hair

Advice by a Skin Specialist.

The best means I have ever found for removing all signs of disfiguring growths of hair on the face, neck, arms, or hands, is a new preparation called Mrs. Osgood's Wonder. I have recommended it in thousands of cases, and I know personally of its ability to banish every hair forever. It cannot injure the skin or complexion, and is quite inexpensive.

You can get Mrs. Osgood's Wonder from J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co., or any up-to-date druggist. Signed money-back Guarantee with every package. Do not apply this treatment except where total destruction of hair is desired.

TO PROTECT FISH CONSUMERS

County Inspector Will Observe Rules of Board of Health—Special Session of Commissioners.

Realizing that there is grave danger of illness from eating fish that have become unfit for food, the board of County Commissioners at a special meeting yesterday afternoon adopted a resolution requiring the county fish inspector to observe the rules and regulations of the Board of Health, relative to the condemning of spoiled fish. All fish found by the inspector in bad condition are to be destroyed in order that there may be no danger of their being used for food.

The action was occasioned by the last monthly report of Mr. J. B. Hewlett, fish inspector for New Hanover, in which it was stated that 119 kegs of fish had been condemned by him. It has been rumored that some of these fish were probably carried back down the river and mixed with fresh fish and possibly sold again. The Commissioners expressed it as their opinion that the public shall be protected and that any measure that will insure consumers getting fresh fish should at once become a law.

The State statutes authorize the appointment of a fish inspector and the county commissioners are authorized to make such rules and regulations as they think desirable. Inasmuch as the new code of rules and regulations, recently adopted by the New Hanover Board of Health, become effective October 15th, it was thought best to have these govern the county fish inspector also.

The meeting of the commissioners was called yesterday afternoon for the purpose of finishing up a number of matters which were left over from the regular monthly meeting a week ago. Those present were Chairman M. S. Willard, Commissioners J. T. Kerr, W. E. Yopp and W. A. McGirt, Auditor Orrell and County Attorney Stacy. A record of the proceedings was kept by the clerk, Mr. W. A. Williams.

Will Borrow $10,000.

The county auditor was authorized to borrow $10,000 for 90 days from the Murchison National Bank, and the chairman and clerk were instructed to execute the necessary notes as evidence of the loan, the money thus obtained to be used in the construction of the county workhouse which was started near the county home some months ago. Work is progressing rapidly on the structure and it is hoped to have it completed by the time winter sets in.

Help for Sheriff Cowan.

The committee consisting of Auditor Orrell, County Attorney Stacy and Commissioner L. W. Moore appointed at the last meeting to make recommendations relative to help in Sheriff Cowan's office for the next few weeks to aid in the collection of taxes made their report and recommended that a deputy be employed in each township of the county and two in the city of Wilmington for ten weeks. Sheriff Cowan was authorized to make these appointments of deputies with the approval of the county auditor and the county attorney.

The awarding of the contract for plumbing in the county jail was postponed in order that more satisfactory specifications may be obtained.

Chairman Willard made a report relative to the filling of a ditch near Downing branch at Winter Park and upon motion of Commissioner McGirt it was decided to have the ditch filled provided the property owner will pay one-half of the cost of the pipe line, the county to pay the other half.

Chairman Willard and Mr. R. A. Burnett, county road superintendent, were authorized to attend the annual meeting of the American Road Congress, which meets in Atlanta, Ga., on November 9th. Chairman Willard said that he expected to attend the meeting and hoped that Superintendent Burnett might also be able to go.

The recommendations of the county auditor and the county attorney relative to the re-writing of the back tax books were accepted by the board. The plan outlined contemplates the writing up of these books according to the blocks in which lots are located in order that there may be fewer errors in making up the tax books for the ensuing year.

Mr. William Nicstile appeared before the board in behalf of certain citizens to make a request that the Blue Clay road north of the city be repaired. He was assured that the matter would be given immediate attention and his request was referred to the permanent road committee.

The clerk of the board was authorized to notify the Board of Commissioners of Pender county of the bad condition of the bridge over Island Creek and request that they take such action on the matter as will enable the New Hanover board to make the needed repairs.

The application of George Maides that E. J. W. Anders be allowed to survey certain tracts of land in Harnett township was granted with the understanding that the county should not be placed under any expense.

Sheriff Cowan was authorized to continue the employment of special deputy to aid in the enforcement of the speed law until October 25th. The employment of a special officer was authorized by the commissioners in August.

receipts, making a proper charge for this service. Mr. Brown thought that this suggestion was a splendid one.

Mr. Holderness, in expressing his approval of the Wade plan, or any other plan that will be the means of bringing into the South ready money to finance the cotton crop, took occasion to declare that a radical curtailment of next year's crop and for several years would be the only effective means of restoring cotton to a normal price level. He did not mean a reduction of 15 or 20 per cent in acreage, he explained, for even with this reduction, the farmers, enabled to give better care to the smaller acreage, could make it produce far more than the demand would take care of at anything like a lucrative price. It would take a greater reduction than this. Mr. Holderness declared that he thought it would be at least five years before cotton would be restored to its normal level.

Mr. Sam Bear, who recently returned from a trip to Europe, declared that the mills of Europe would not begin running again until peace was restored. He thought the Wade plan a good one, but did not look for it to have any especial effect in bringing about the purchase of cotton by European consumers because of a realization that the American producers were not compelled to sell at a sacrifice. In speaking of the European war and its effects on the business of this country, he took occasion to predict that it would not last much longer.

Mr. Wm. A. Hunt, secretary of the North Carolina Bankers' Association, and Mr. W. B. Drake both thought that there might be some trouble in raising the necessary $3,500,000 that North Carolina will be called upon to subscribe if she enters the syndicate. Mr. Hunt mentioned the fact that much trouble had been experienced in getting the farmers to store their cotton in warehouses. Also, he said, many sections of the State have other interests in addition to cotton and he was certain that the banks in these sections of the State would hardly be inclined to use their funds in caring for cotton, at the expense of those other interests.

Mr. M. W. Jacobi protested against any plan which meant that the borrower would have to pay more than the legal rate of 6 per cent interest. He was opposed to this on principle, he declared.

Mr. G. Herbert Smith, Mr. W. C. Denney, Mr. D. L. Gore and others present also took part in the discussion, and finally upon suggestion of Mr. McQueen, Mr. Holderness offered the resolution to the effect that the meeting looked with favor on the Wade plan, but that on account of limited attendance of bankers, due to the meeting in Richmond of the American Bankers' Association, deemed it wise to refer the matter to a meeting of the members of the North Carolina Bankers' Association in attendance there. The resolution was immediately adopted.

The visiting bankers in attendance on the meeting yesterday were entertained at the Cape Fear Club by the local bankers.

The following Wilmington bankers will leave this evening to attend the meeting of the American Bankers' Association in Richmond and to take part in the conference of the North Carolina Bankers' Association relative to the proposed syndicate: Mr. R. L. Henley, cashier of the Atlantic Trust & Banking Company; Mr. G. L. Williams, cashier of the Wilmington Savings & Trust Co.; Mr. F. W. Dick, vice president of the People's Savings Bank; Mr. H. C. McQueen, president of the Murchison National Bank; Mr. Thos. E. Cooper, president of the American National Bank, and Mr. M. F. H. Gouverneur, a member of the board of directors of the Richmond Reserve Bank.

Mr. Wade, who suggested the $150,000,000 cotton pool, will attend the meeting and will probably meet with the North Carolina body when it takes the plan under consideration.

Young People Married Last Night.

Mr. Frank F. Nisi and Miss Annie Dell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen P. Dell, were married last evening at 8 o'clock at the residence of the bride's parents, No. 1819 Market street. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. S. Crowley, pastor of Immanuel Presbyterian church. Besides the members of the family there were a number of friends present. After the marriage there was an informal reception in honor of the bride and groom. Refreshments were served. The young couple have many friends in the city.

ENJOYED BRIGADE CONCERT.

Opening Number of Lyceum Course Witnessed by Large Audience.

The armory of the Boys' Brigade presented a scene of animation as the brilliant audience which had assembled there last night awiated the raising of the curtain on this, the initial number, of the fifth season of the Lyceum Course provided by the management for the pleasure of its hundreds of patrons, and in casting about for one that would be sure to please could not have made a better selection from the nine numbers which constitute the course for this season than the Neapolitans—an organization of seven instrumentalists and their director, Signor Lamperti, and two vocalists, Madame Bellini and Signor Monetti, soprano and tenor.

The orchestra, while small in numbers, is very well balanced and played with that snap and vim characteristic of sunny Italy. For the most part, their selections were from the Italian composers and their interpretations were in keeping with that usually expected of them.

To prove, however, that their ability was not wholly confined to this class of music, as an encore to their second number they rendered more than intelligently that charming number, "On the Road to Mandelay," to the accompaniment of the hundreds of pairs of feet, the owners of which found it quite impossible to desist, so inspiring was it given. Another number and one that again found the audience taking part with the pedal extremities was "The Sunny South," which was none other than a melange of Southern airs embracing the old and familiar "Suanee River," "My Old Kentucky Home," "Old Black Joe," and climaxing with "Dixie" which called for numerous rounds of applause, subsiding only as the swift change brought the musicians to the "Star Spangled Banner," played with both orchestra and audience rising to their feet. Perhaps their best number from an artistic standpoint was the "Hungarian Fantasia" (Tobani), played in good tempo and with intelligent reading.

The vocal numbers were supplied by Madame Bellini and Sig. Monetti, as soloists and in duos. The audience had to take it for granted they meant what they said as doubtless the Italian language was not well understood (?) by many. Their first number, a duo, was the well known "Miserre" from Il Trovatore (Verdi). Madame Bellini for her second appearance, rendered "The Last Rose of Summer," and for an encore, a selection from the "Chocolate Soldier." The audience was so insistent that with the assistance of the Signor, they gave the duo from Il Traviati. Signor Pamperit conducts with skill and ease and his men enter into the spirit of the music with much enthusiasm. MUSICUSS.

LYNCHBURG SHOE CO., JOINS BUY-A-BALE MOVEMENT.

Each Member of Organization Has Purchased Bale at Ten Cents.

Along with the other business enterprises of the North and the South, the Lynchburg Shoe Company, one of the best known manufacturers of shoes in the country, have authorized every member of their organization at headquarters in Lynchburg and each member of their sales force in the cotton producing states from Virginia to Texas to buy one bale of cotton at ten cents a pound.

The Star is in receipt of the following letter from Mr. S. C. Foster, vice president of the Sample Shoe Store, of Florence, S. C.:

"I am authorized to say that the Lynchburg Shoe Company most heartily endorses the 'buy-a-bale-of-cotton' movement. Every member of our organization at headquarters in Lynchburg and each member of our sales force in the cotton producing states from Virginia to Texas, has bought one bale of cotton for 10 cents a pound. We believe that this movement is already having a wholesome effect on business as it proves that the larger interests all over the country have faith in 'King Cotton' and that they are willing to back this faith with their dollars.

"This is the kind of help that means something to the farmer and the merchant. I hope every traveling man in the South will join in this movement and show to the farmer and the merchant that we are ready and willing to join hands in promoting their welfare as well as the other business interests of our Southland."

—Mr. J. A. Maultsby, of Whiteville, was a guest at the Orton last night.

THEATRICAL

"Bringing Up Father," a musical comedy based on George McManus' cartoons now running in over 500 daily and Sunday newspapers throughout the United States and Canada will be the next attraction at the Academy on Saturday of this week.

The best recommendation that can possibly be given "Bringing Up Father" is the fact that Mr. Gus Hill is the producer. If the cartoon did not show pronounced assurance of success as a play, Mr. Hill never would have considered the proposition to produce it for the stage. Theatrical history gives reason for the assertion that a Gus Hill play is a success before the first curtain rises. So much for experience and judgment as to what the public demands in the shape of musical entertainment.

Secure seats now and avoid disappointment. Special children's matinee, curtain will rise promptly at 3 o'clock night 8:30. Seats Thursday at Woodall & Sheppard's.

A Feature Extraordinary.

Besides offering its regular swell bill of Keith Vaudeville, the Victoria Theatre is doing something exceptional this week, and something that will provide not only entertainment, but education. It is presenting the noted traveler and lecturer, F. Tennyson Neely, who is presenting a 25-minute lecture of the European war and thrillingly illustrating it with colored slides and moving pictures. It is a high class attraction and one the Victoria is indeed fortunate in landing. It appeals to all and not only will a rare treat be enjoyed, but much information gathered it one will only listen to Mr. Neely, who has been on the actual scenes and knows what he is talking about. He is a fluent speaker and really a flowery one. It is also a matter of interest to know that Mr. Neeley, who is one of the foremost travelers and lecturers of the day, comes from North Carolina stock, his parents being natives of the Old North State.

The well known Destelle Sisters are charming in songs and dances and wear some perfectly stunning gowns. Then there is one of the best known and funniest sketch teams in the business on the boards in Charles and Adelaide Wilson, whose act is a riot of mirth from start to finish. Another great act is that of Julitina's Dogs, and these canines do everything save talk.

5 Reels—5 Cents—Bijou.

Today the popular photoplay house comes to the front again with another one of those famous penny-o-reel shows that have scored such a big hit in Wilmington during the past few months, the bill for the day consisting of five full reels of the biggest and newest movies—two mammoth double reel special releases and a rousing single reel comedy offering. Maintaining always the very highest quality at any cost, the Bijou persists in keeping the price down to five cents, no matter how big a feature they are fortunate enough to book.

Today's bill is headed by that notable two-reel dramatic release, "Redemption," one of the biggest stories ever told in two reels. In the leading parts are seen such screen stars as Wm. Shay, Wm. Welsh and Violet Merserau. It is an appealing human-interest story of the working of a child's love on the nature of a "beast," and the "redemption" that is brought about thereby. It is in two full reels, and there is not a dull moment from beginning to end.

"Moonshine Molly," is the title of the other big two-reeler, and this is a special Mutual release—"make time fly". It's a thrilling and touching story of moonshining, the hardships wrought on a moonshiner's daughter when he is sent up for 20 years, and contains one of the prettiest romances ever woven for the movies.

The fifth reel on the bill is a rousing Joker comedy, "Jane's Lovers," and features Ernest Shields, Jane Bernoudy and Phil Dunham in the three leading roles.

Henrietta Crossman Again Today.

"They are great. Different from anything ever seen in Wilmington and just the same as viewing a big Broadway show."

This in substance sums up what the people of Wilmington are proclaiming about the wonderful, magnificent, costly Paramount Pictures the Grand Theatre is offering these days. And there were certainly "some" people at the Grand yesterday.

The presentation yesterday was a stupendous and brilliant one, and folks appreciated it just the same as if they were occupying a $2 seat beholding the real, original production on Broadway. Miss Crossman never appeared to better advantage than she does in the role of "Mrs. Hatch" and her appearance on the screen sways her audience into varied emotions and holds them in a grip of steel at the crucial moments. Verily, this is one of the most wonderful of all Paramounts. Fortunate, too, are the people of Wilmington in that the Grand will today again offer this big attraction, so as to give all chance to behold it. The performances will commence at 11 o'clock this morning and continue, without interruption, until 11 o'clock tonight, and, remember, the prices of admission are the smallest ever charged for this great attraction, being 10 cents for adults, but only 5 cents for children.

"PEG O' MY HEART" FINDS FAVOR FOR SECOND TIME.

Hartley Manners' Comedy of Youth a Genuine Theatrical Treat.

Contrasting types of humanity as old as life itself, and ringing true in every line, "Peg O' My Heart" played a return engagement at the Academy of Music last evening, with almost the same cast as appeared here last season, and repeated its former success. The audience, not quite so large as last year, was nevertheless representative, and its appreciation of the performance was expressed in more ways than one.

Refreshing in its simplicity and free from the so-called problems—sex or otherwise—sparkling with comedy that despite its lightness and buoyancy carries the germ of truth, "Peg O' My Heart" preaches its sermon against artificiality so subtly and unobtrusively that this lesson taught does not detract from one's enjoyment of the relaxation the play affords.

Miss Blanche Hall, as Peg, who was seen here last season, handles her part so well that one goes away wondering what she is like off the stage, and finding it hard to believe that she was acting anything other than her sweet, natural self. In a role totally different and almost as difficult, Joseph Allenton, as Alaric, is so genuine as to arouse a desire on the part of the masculine audience to try the effect of a number seven boot properly applied. Miss Ruth Garland, as Ethel; Miss Alma Chester, as Mrs. Chichester; F. L. Bruce-Tiden as Jerry and Pelham Lynton as Christian Brent presented their parts most admirably, as did J. Irving White, as the solicitor. A. T. Hendon, as Jarvis, was 'Hinglish enough to satisfy the most critical, and Miss Violet Moore does good work as the maid. The two latter are new members of the company, and the cast is none the weaker for their addition. In fact, it would be hard to find a week spot in the whole production, and there are many here who will look forward to witnessing "Peg" again.

CONGREGATION CALLS PASTOR.

Rev. Andrew J. Howell Called to Pastorate of Winter Park Church.

Following the preaching of a strong sermon Sunday night by Rev. J. S. Crowley, pastor of Immanuel Presbyterian church, the members of the congregation of Winter Park Presbyterian church met and extended a unanimous call to Rev. Andrew J. Howell to the pastorate of the church. Mr. Crowley was elected moderator of the meeting and presided.

Mr. Howell has been serving for several months as supply pastor of the church. The congregation was organized last year and Mr. Howell will be the first pastor of the church.

In the absence of Mr. Crowley, the services at Immanuel Presbyterian church Sunday night were conducted by Rev. Andrew J. Howell, who was heard by a large congregation.

How to Banish Wrinkles Quickly

If the average woman only knew it, it is not at all difficult to preserve the youthful contour and velvety smoothness of complexion. Every woman hates to see her face wrinkled or baggy, and practically every one has experimented with some sort of patent remedy in the effort either to remove such condition or ward it off.

As a matter of fact, the most effective remedy in the world is one that any woman can easily make up herself at home, in a moment's time. Let her take one ounce of pure powdered saxolite, which she can purchase at any drug store, and dissolve it in a half pint of witch hazel. Apply this harmless and refreshing solution to the face every day. The results are surprising—and instantaneous. Even after the very first application a marked improvement is apparent. The wrinkles are less in evidence and the face has a comfortable, smug feeling of firmness that is most delightful.

DIRECTORS TO MAKE TOUR OF THE SOUTH

Will Spend Wednesday Night in Wilmington

PROMINENT IN BUSINESS

Brief Sketches of Directorate of United States Chamber of Commerce Itinerary Includes Principal Cities.

Particular interest will attach to the trip through the Southern states of the officers and directors of the United State Chamber of Commerce, who will spend Wednesday night in Wilmington as the guests of the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce, because this body of prominent business men have not as a body before visited the South and also because the South has so much to show in the way of remarkable development along commercial lines.

The Directors will leave Washington, D. C., early Tuesday morning going direct to Richmond, Vt., where they will spend the afternoon and night. Two stops will be made in North Carolina—at Raleigh, where will spend part of Wednesday, and Wilmington, where they will spend Wednesday evening. They will leave early Thursday morning for Charleston, S. C.

Other Southern cities which will be included in their itinerary are: Savannah, Atlanta and Rome, Ga.; Jacksonville and Pensacola, Fla.; Mobile and Birmingham, Ala.; New Orleans, La.; Orange, Beaumont, Houston and Dallas, Tex.; Texarkana and Little Rock, Ark.; Memphis, Chattanooga and Knoxville, Tenn.

The personnel of the directorate of this body includes prominent men from all parts of the country. Brief sketches of each follow:

President.

John H. Fahey, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, was during the first two years of its existence Chairman of its Executive Committee. Mr. Fahey is a resident of Boston, a newspaper publisher, and a director and member of the Exectuive Committee of the Boston Chamber of Commerce. He is connected with many of the constructive activities carried on in Boston and in touch with the commercial organization efforts of New England and the nation.

SAY CHILD WAS BURIED ALIVE TO SHIELD FATHER.

Columbus Negress Charged With Infanticide, is in Jail—Ugly Case.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Whiteville, N. C., Oct. 12.—The second negro woman to be charged with infanticide within a apace of 48 hours, Kate Rowland, alias Kate Pittman, was arrested a little after midnight this morning six miles north of Fairmont, Robeson county, under an indictment alleging the killing of her month-old baby at Clarendon in this county on last Saturday evening, the arrest being made by Deputy Sheriffs D. Gaston Best and J. H. Yates on a warrant sworn out by the latter issued by Justice of the Peace C. H. Harrelson. Coroner S. A. Smith, of Bolton, was notified and went down late yesterday afternoon and held an inquest over the body of the child, the jury returning a verdict charging the woman with murder, and she was lodged in jail here.

The case looks very dark for the negress for it is stated here by authorities familiar with the circumstances that she buried the child alive, and that her motive was to prevent friction between a white man and his wife who live in Robeson county, and this man is said to be the father of the child that was buried.

The Rowland woman, however, contends that the child was dead when she buried it, but her statement is taken to be altogether too weak to warrant serious consideration. She says the child had a convulsion and death followed, and, being without funds to purchase a coffin, she took the body, dug a grave for it and buried it, face downward, near the cabin where she was living. The woman then went to Fairmont, arriving there late Saturday evening, for the purpose of securing funds with which to purchase a coffin, (her idea being to dig the body up and re-inter it) and to notify her people of its death. The fact that she had told her people nothing about it, and at the time of her arrest they were in utter ignorance of the birth of the child, is strongly against the woman, and she confesses that no one at Clarendon knew anything about the burial Saturday.

The case is peculiar in that it is the second of like nature to occur within this county within a space of 48 hours.

KINSTON SELLS BONDS FOR MUNICIPAL IMPROVEMENTS.

Issue of $100,000 Sold to New York-Chicago Firm at Par.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., Oct. 12.—A bond issue of $100,000 has been sold by the city of Kinston to A. B. Leach & Co., of New York and Chicago, through the Security Trust Co., of Spartanburg, S. C., at par and accrued interest. The bonds are in denomination of $1,000, to mature in 30 years and bear 5 per cent.

The issue, for municipal improvements, was voted last June. The recent stringency put a stop to efforts to sell the bonds, and when an agent of the purchasers appeared before city council with the offer the members were surprised. Many towns are experiencing difficulty in disposing of bonds at all, and few are getting as good a price as the Kinston issue brought. The expenses, except for printing the bonds, are to be stood by the purchasers. The money will be available in about 30 days, it is expected, and the improvements contemplated, including paving and sewerage and lighting extensions, can be commenced in a few weeks. Council did not expect to get a satisfactory price for the bonds for many months owing to the unsettled market and had temporarily dismissed the improvements from consideration.

NOTED POULTRY EXPERT COMING TO CAROLINA.

A. & M. College Makes Annual Report to U. S. Government—Notes.

West Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 12.—Dr. B. F. Kaupp, who has been connected with the United States Department of Agriculture, will come to the experiment station as special investigator in the poultry department and will do some teaching. Dr. Kaupp is noted for his experiments and books on poultry diseases and comes well qualified for his work.

The yearly report which the A. & M. College is required to make to the United States government has just been forwarded to the Secretary of the Interior and the Commissioner of Education. The report epitomizes the life of the college during the past year. For the year ending July 1, the report shows a faculty of 62 and student enrolment of 729, and many additional building and equipment facilities.

The number of students taking agriculture in the A. & M. is 254, which is the largest by far enrolled in any one course in college. Electrical engineering students come next with 117, then mechanical engineering students with 95; 96 civil engineering; 51 textile and 16 chemical.

Two hundred and fifty freshmen are registered, which is the largest of any class in college. There are 121 sophomore, 93 juniors and 61 seniors.

The Thalarian german club held its second dance of the season Saturday evening with 65 couples on the floor. The membership of the club and a few guests enjoy these monthly affairs.

The Techs. football team is preparing to send the regular 'varsity in the meet here next Saturday when the Medical College of Virginia is here for the third contest of the season. The Meds haven't as strong a team as the Techs, and consequently the home boys are counting on another overwhelming victory. Tenny, fullback, and Sharpe, right half, will be back in the game. Both are nearly recovered from the injuries sustained in the Wake Forest game October 3rd.

HAD PERSONAL ENCOUNTER.

Knife Brought Into Play on Streets of Mount Olive.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Mount Olive, N. C., Oct. 12.—John Davis, a local sawmill contractor and farmer, received two or three ugly wounds by a knife in the hands, it is alleged, of J. R. Jones, a local wholesale merchant, as the result of a personal encounter between the two on the streets Saturday night. The cause of the difficulty between the combatants has not been learned. Jones was required to give bond for his appearance before the mayor Tuesday morning.

To Shippers and Receivers of Freight IN NORTH CAROLINA

On October 13th, 1914, the provisions of the new North Carolina Freight Rate Law (Chapter 20, Public Laws, Extra Session of 1913), familiarly known as the "Justice Act," becomes effective under the proclamation of the Governor of North Carolina. New tariffs of rates for the transportation of freight between points in the State of North Carolina will be filed with the North Carolina Corporation Commission, and with all the Agents of the undersigned Railroad Company on said date.

The provisions of the new Law make some radical changes in the trnasportation of freight within this State, and in order to prevent confusion on the part of the shippers and receivers of freight it is deemed proper to call these changes to their attention. In addition to the changes made in the rates heretofore existing, the new Law prohibits one railroad from meeting specific competitive rates of another rail or water line, unless intermediate rates are reduced to the same level, and to this extent competition between different routes will hereafter be prevented by the Law of North Carolina.

Special attention is called to the new form of these tariffs. They require that when freight is to be transported over a joint haul by more than one carrier, the shortest route must be used in order to secure the lowest rate. If the shipper does not desire his freight forwarded by the shortest route indicated in the tariff, but desires it forwarded by another route, it will be so forwarded, but the rate charged must be for the actual distance by the route directed by the shipper, even though it be the longer route.

Freight transported between points on this line will, under the terms of the Law, be forwarded by the route over which this line's shortest distance is obtained, and the rate of this line for said shortest distance will be applied unless the shipper instructs that the freight be forwarded by another route, in which case the freight will be so forwarded, and the rate applicable by said other route will be applied. If a shipment is tendered to an agent of this line without routing instructions, destined to a point reached by this line, it will be assumed that it is the desire of the shipper that the freight be transported entirely over this line, even at a higher rate than may be obtainable if forwarded via another route. On shipments so forwarded without specific instructions from the shipper, this Company may not, under the Law, entertain claims for overcharge on basis of the lower rate applicable via another route.

BANKERS' ENTERTAINMENT AT RICHMOND ELABORATE

Richmond, Va., Oct. 10.—Plans for the entertainment of those who attend the annual convention of the American Bankers' Association in Richmond, Va., October 12-17, have been completely matured by Richmond bankers and the city authorities. The Virginia city, well known for its hospitality and methods of entertainment, is prepared to put forth the greatest effort of its history for the approaching convention.

The programme which has been prepared offers the utmost in variety and amount. The people of Richmond, to a man, have joined in the plans for the entertainment of the visitors and delegates, and they may safely look forward to carrying away from Richmond something more than they have ever taken from other conventions.

The gratuitous entertainments run the gamut from steamer trips to old Jamestown Island ,visits to historical points of interest, golf tournaments, and balls, to concerts by grand opera stars.

Preparations for the reception and care of the bankers' convention were undertaken with a thoroughness in Richmond which would be difficult to surpass. The city government, bankers, and private citizens joined in contributing to a huge fund from which the entertainment features are to be provided. The most representative men in the municipal government, in the banks, in the industrial concerns were organized into a committee which was in turn split up into sub-committees to handle the countless details of the convention with systematic precision.

While the convention proper does not begin until Monday, October 12, many delegates will reach Richmond on Sunday. For them there will be a special lay service, to be conducted by men well known in financial circles, at 8 o'clock on Sunday night in the new Second Baptist church, adjoining the Jefferson Hotel, which is to be convention headquarters.

Visitors, on arriving in Richmond, would do well to go at once to the Jefferson Hotel, and present themselves at the registration bureau, there to receive the book of tickets which will admit them to the affairs prepared for their enjoyment. The information bureau, located in the same hotel, is provided with maps, charts, booklets, folders and all the literature likely to be of service to strangers.

The real entertainment begins on Monday, October 12. At 10 o'clock on that morning automobiles will begin leaving the Jefferson Hotel on tours of the multitudinous points of interest around old Richmond. At 1 o'clock visiting Rotarians will be the guests of the Richmond Rotary Club at luncheon on the roof garden of Reuger's otel. Tea for the ladies is scheduled at 5 o'clock in the Commonwealth Club.

At 10 o'clock, Tuesday morning, October 13, special street cars will leave the Main street entrance of the Jefferson Hotel for a visit to the plants of the Southern Manufacturing Company and the Standard Paper Company, two large and vastly interesting establishments. Automobile tours for those who so incline are also planned for this morning. The great golf tournament, to decide the financial golf champion of America, will begin on Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock on the links of the Country Club of Virginia. "The Governor's Ball", at which Governor Henry Carter Stuart will receive, is on the programme for Tuesday night, in the magnificent new armory of the Richmond Greys.

On Wednesday morning, at 10 o'clock special street cars will leave the Jefferson Hotel for trips to the factories of the Richmond Cedar Works, the Richmond branch of the American Locomotive Works, and the Liggett & Meyers Tobacco Co., three industries supreme in their fields. Automobile tours are scheduled for this morning also. At 1:30 o'clock the ladies will be entertained at luncheon at the Country Club of Virginia. On the same night, at 8:30 o'clock, there will be a musicale in the City Audintorium at which will appear Miss Alma Gluck, soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Company; Antonio Scotti, baritone, of the same organization; Efrem Zimbalist, violinist of international game, and a well known accompanist.

Other automobile tours are planned for Thursday morning, October 15, while at the same hour special motor cars will leave the Jefferson Hotel to convey the visitors to the manufacturing plants of the Tredegar Works, the Albemarle Paper Co., and the C. F. Sauer Co. That night, at 8 o'clock, the Richmond Advertisers' Club will give a supper to visitors who are members of advertisers' clubs in other cities.

The chief entertainment feature of the convention, the steamship trip to Jamestown Island, is planned for Friday, October 16. Two large and swift river steamers, amply able to provide comfortable quarters for all who may attend the convention, will leave the Old Dominion Steamship Company's wharf at 8 o'clock in the morning. Luncheon will be served on board, served after the manner of the old Virginia plantation. At 1:30 o'clock the boats are scheduled to arrive at Jamestown Island, the site of the first permanent English settlement in America, where stands relics and ruins of the courageous settlers under Capt. John Smith in the year 1606. After a stay of two hours to allow complete inspection of the island, the steamers will sail on down the historic old James river which abounds in beautiful Colonial estates and scenery which rivals the Rhine. The ships will arrive at Newport News at 6 o'clock in the evening, the passengers going ashore there to return to Richmond by train. The special trains are scheduled to reach Richmond at 7:30 o'clock.

In regard to the half dozen industrial plants which are to be open for inspection by convention visitors it might be well to say that: Laurus & Bro. Co. is the largest indenpendent makers of smoking tobacco in the world; the Federal Cigar Co. is the largest cigar and cheroot factory in the world; the Standard Paper Company is the largest maker of blotting paper in the world; the Southern Manufacturing Company is the largest maker of baking powder in the world, the Richmond Cedar Works is the largest wooden ware factory in the world, the Liggett & Meyers Tobacco Co.'s plant is the largest cigarette factory in the world; the C. F. Sauer Co. is the maker of the largest selling brand of flavoring extracts in the world; the Albemarle Paper Co., is the largest exporter of blotting paper in America; the Richmond branch of the American Locomotive Company built the largest locomotive in the world; and the Tredegar Works makes a majority of the projectiles used by the United States army and navy. So it will readily be seen that these are not ordinary plants to which the visitors have been invited.

Visitors are invited to inspect the oldest Masonic Hall in America, still standing on Franklin Street, between Eighteenth and Nineteenth Street. By special arrangement the Confederate Museum, containing vitally interesting relics of the Civil War; Valentine's Museum, the old home of Chief Justice John Marshall, and the war time residence of Robert E. Lee, will be open daily for free inspection. The Richmond Manufacturers' Exhibit, a permanent display of diversified Richmond-made goods, will welcome visitors daily between the hours of 9 A. M. and 7 P. M.

The intensely interesting agricultural displays of the Virginia State Fair Association, exemplifying by counties the diversified farming interests of the Old Dominion, will be open for the inspection of visitors.

Finaly, at all times, the numerous social and country clubs of Richmond have offered the courtesies of their houses for the entertainment of the convention visitors.

THINKS ELECTION OF MR. DARST WAS WISE

Bishop Cheshire Gratified at Action of Special Council

President Brown Strongly Approves Wade Cotton Pool Plan—Automobile Licenses—Raleigh Courts—Other Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 12.—Rt. Rev. Joseph Blount Cheshire, D. D., bishop of the Diocese of North Carolina, expresses gratification at the election of Rev. Thomas C. Darst, of St. James Episcopal church, Richmond, Va., as the bishop for the Diocese of East Carolina and is most anxious that he accept. Bishop Cheshire says that while he had not thought of the availability of Rev. Mr. Darst at the time of the meeting in Washington for the election of a bishop and had favored the selection of another, as soon as the election of Rev. Mr. Darst was announced he was convinced that a very wise choice had been made and that if he can be prevailed on to accept the diocese will be most fortunate.

Judge Whedbee, of Greenville, opened a one week term of superior court here this morning for trial of criminal cases, there being 47 cases on the docket, none of them of great importance. He impanneled and set the grand jury to work without special charge, the same jury having served for the provious term in a manner, he declared, that showed that they understood their duties and would discharge their work without fear or favor.

Automobile Licenses.

The Secretary of State is issuing an average of about twenty automobile licenses per day now and there seems to be no let up in the volume of new business from European war effect. It is notable that licenses for machines were issued today to one man named Shoe and another named Sox. They are J. G. Shoe, of Julian, Guilford county; and Rev. E. J. Sox, of Hickory, N. C.

Two charters were issued today as follows: The American Feed Milling Co., of Asheville, capital $50,000 authorized and $7,500 subscribed by O. P. Lotspeich, W. C. Brown, V. K. Chambers, Asheville; C. E. Lotspeich, Marshall, and J. W. King, Johnson City, for general milling business.

The Rankin-Butler Drug Co., of Winston-Salem, capital $10,000 authorized and $5,100 subscribed by T. A. Butler, W. H. Rankin, W. O. Butler and Mrs. Henrietta Butler for a general drug business.

In Robeson Saturday.

Commissioner of Agriculture W. A. Graham left today for official visits to the fairs to be in progress this week in Asheville and Greensboro. He will go on Friday to Back Swamp, Robeson county, where he will take part in a big rally of farmers of that section. He will be accompanied there by T. B. Parker, director of the division of farmers' institutes, and by Mrs. W. N. Hutt, of the woman's division of the institute work. All three will make addresses.

The most serious of a score of cases before Police Juctice W. C. Harris, in the municipal court this morning accumulated over Sunday, was against Macon Day, who is charged with having broken into a Norfolk Southern freight car Saturday night and taken sixteen cases of cigarettes, ten buckets of lard and some other freight. Along with him were Buck Terry and Tom Day, charged with receiving part of the stolen goods. All are negroes. The case goes to the superior court. There were an unusually large number of drunks included in the twenty-three cases before the police justice.

Brown Deeply Interested.

Mr. Joseph G. Brown, president of the North Carolina Currency Association and of Citizen's National Bank, this city, is deeply interested in the movement under the St. Louis—Wade proposition to raise a pool of $150,000,000 by the banks of the country for the relief of the cotton situation in the South. Mr. Brown regards the proposition as one of great value and is one of ten men named by President Wilson to examine into the practicability of the proposition.

He went today to Wilmington to meet with the executive committee of the State Bankers' Association to consider North Carolina's position in the movement, which if carried through will necessitate the raising of $3,500,000 b ythe banking interests of this State. Mr. Brown expects that there will be important action taken regarding the proposition by the bankers of the entire country this week at Richmond while the American Bankers' Association is in session.

Automobile Accident.

Sunday afternoon out at Eagle Rock, this county, Mrs. Goodwin, wife of Dr. W. A. Goodwin, of this city, had the misfortune of falling as she stepped from her automobile and having her hip fractured or otherwise very seriously injured. She was taken to Rex Hospital this morning and a series of x-ray photographs taken in the hope of arriving at an exact diagnosis of the injury.

Rev. A. V. Joyner has resigned the pastorate of Pullen Memorial Baptist church here to accept the pastorate of the Baptist church at Waynesville. He has been pastor here for two years. The resignation was regretfully accepted by the congregation. There are no indications yet as to who will succeed Mr. Joyner as pastor here.

SAW MILL BURNED IN PENDER.

Vote of Primary Canvassed—Mr. Herring Returns Home.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Burgaw, N. C., Oct. 12.—The primary for the selection of one county commissioner last Saturday passed off quietly, only a light vote being polled. The contest was between Mr. T. J. Armstrong, present chairman of the board, and Mr. N. H. Lockhart. The executive committee met here today to canvass the returns, but all were not in up to 5 o'clock. However, enough were in to show the nomination of Mr. Lockhart by a substantial majority. This will give the board two new members, the other being Mr. F. P. Flynn, at present a member.

It is hoped in this county that the next Legislature will pass a law providing a primary for all nominations, but if not, Pender wants a primary law anyway.

Mr. George E. Burton had the misfortune to lose his saw mill by fire yesterday. It was located about three miles east of Burgaw and had been in operation there only a short while. Fortunately no lumber was destroyed. Mr. Burton will replace the mill and resume work as early as possible.

Mr. David F. Herring, who has been at the State Sanitorium at Montrose for some time, has returned home, much improved in health.

Spencer, W. Va., Oct. 12.—The business district of Spencer was destroyed by fire early today with a loss of approximately $300,000.

CURES PIMPLES EASILY.

Simple Remedy That Clears Skin Quickly of All Eruptions.

For several weeks past J. Hicks Bunting Drug Company have done a big business in selling Hokara, the skin healer that has won so many friends in Wilmington.

It has been found to heal not only all minor skin troubles, such as pimples, blackheads, herpes, acne, scaly scalp, complexion blemishes, itching feet, piles, etc., but also the worst sores, ulcers, or even chronic eczema and salt rheum. There has yet to be found any form of wound or disease affecting the skin or mucous membrane that Hokara does not help, and its action is so quick that those who try it are simply delighted with it right from the start.

In spite of the unusual curative powers, the price is trifling. To convince everyone of its merits, Hicks Bunting Drug Co., will sell a liberal-sized jar for 25c. And remember that if you do not think it does what is claimed, you get your money back. You certainly can afford to try it on this plan.

5 Women Avoid Operations

For years we have been stating in the newspapers of the country that a great many women have escaped serious operations by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it is true.

We are permitted to publish in this announcement extracts from the letters of five women. All have been recently received unsolicited. Could any evidence be more convincing?

1. HODGDON, ME.—"I had pains in both sides and such a soreness I could scarcely straighten up at times. My back ached and I was so nervous I could not sleep, and I thought I never would be any better until I submitted to an operation, but I commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and soon felt like a new woman."—Mrs. HAYWARD SOWERS, Hodgdon, Me.

2. CHARLOTTE, N. C.—"I was in bad health for two years, with pains in both sides and was very nervous. I had a growth which the doctor said was a tumor, and I never would get well unless I had an operation. A friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I gladly say that I am now enjoying fine health."—Mrs. ROSA SIMS, 16 Winona St., Charlotte, N. C.

3. HANOVER, PA.—"The doctor advised a severe operation, but my husband got me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I experienced great relief in a short time. Now I feel like a new person and can do a hard day's work and not mind it."—Mrs. ADA WILT, 196 Stock St., Hanover, Pa.

4. DECATUR, ILL.—"I was sick in bed and three of the best physicians said I would have to be taken to the hospital for an operation as I had something growing in my left side. I refused to submit to the operation and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—and it worked a miracle in my case, and I tell other women what it has done for me."—Mrs. LAURA A. GRISWOLD, 2300 Blk. East William Street, Decatur, Ill.

5. CLEVELAND, OHIO.—"I was very irregular and for several years my side pained me so that I expected to have to undergo an operation. Doctors said they knew of nothing that would help me. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I became regular and free from pain. I am thankful for such a good medicine and will always give it the highest praise."—Mrs. C. H. GRIFFITH, 7305 Madison Av., Cleveland, O.

Write to LYDIA E. PINKHAM MEDICINE CO. (CONFIDENTIAL) LYNN, MASS., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

Further Declines Made on Market—Steadier in West.

New Orleans, Oct. 12.—Further declines today in the price of spot cotton marked the opening of the week. In the western belt there was a stadier feeling but locally, and in the eastern belt at several points values dropped a quarter of a cent a pound. Futures, however, held steady; January being held at 7.40, with 7.35 bid.

Total foreign clearances for the day were 22,403 bales. Exports to foreign countries were only 6,000 bales under total port receipts for the day.

Spot cotton, quiet. Sales on the spot, 140; to arrive, 133. Middling, 7 cents.

CAN'T FIND PROFESSOR OF FRENCH AND GERMAN

Member of Faculty Industrial College Lost in Europe.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., Oct. 12.—The Industrial Christian College, a small denominational institution with about 50 students at Dawson, can't find its professor of French and German. Charles H. Chillingarian, the professor, in the summer went to France to visit his parents, and since then every effort to locate him has failed Professor Chillingarian, who was born in Constatinope of English parents and raised in London, is believed to be at Nantes, where his father is in the money exchange business. The professor is about 25 years of age, and is well known in North Carolina. He studied at Columbia University and Trinity (N. C.) College in this country. He has had a kaleidoscopic career, and that he may now be stranded in the war zone or even engaged in the fighting is regarded as not unlikely.

REVIVAL AT CHADBOURN

One of the Most Successful in Years Closed Sunday.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Cerro Gordo, N. C., Oct. 12.—One of the best revival meetings ever held in this community came to a close last night at the Methodist church after a week's duration. The pastor, Rev. W. C. Martin, of Chadbourn, did the preaching, and the Spirit attended the preaching of the word to the salvation of many souls. The congregations from the first service were the best seen here in years, and last night the church was crowded from the pulpit to the door. Twenty-one joined the Methodist church yesterday, and several will join the Baptist church.

The service last night was indeed inspiring. More than 100 people came to the alter dedicating their lives to the Master. W. C. M.

BRECKENRIDGE IS BACK.

Has Completed His Task as Head of Relief Expedition.

Washington, Oct. 12.—Henry S. Breckenridge, assistant Secretary of War, returned to his duties at the War Department today, having completed his task as head of the relief expedition which visited the warring European countries to care for distressed Americans.

Several military officers attached to the expedition had opportunities to watch European mobilization, conducted on a scale greater than the world has ever before known. This information is regarded as confidential but is expected to be of great value to the general staff in the perfection of plans for the speedy creation of a defensive army in the United States if ever required.

STORY OF THE WAR TOLD BY THE "ADS"

They Contain Much of Pathos and Grim Humor

IN THE LONDON PAPERS

No Serious Diminution of Amount of Space Sold at Usual Rates—Losses in One Line Made Up in Another—Features.

(Correspondence of Associated Press.)

London, Oct. 1.—The advertising columns of the London daily papers tell their own story of the war. If the censor went so far as to block out every other line of information, so long as he left the "ads" intact the reader would still not lack instruction as to what war means to England. He would still find a great deal of pathos and grim humor.

Fears at first entertained by the newspapers and periodicals that advertising might be abandoned on account of the war's effect on business now appear to have been groundless. There have been losses, indeed, in one line, and gains in another, with the net result that there is today, after two full months of the war, seemingly no serious diminution of the amount of space sold at the usual rates for advertising.

The most notable change has been in the character of the advertising. It is distinctly war advertising. Of that sort it is more extensive than has ever been known in the history of British journalism. The greatest space gain is probably in the "small ad" line. Two or more pages, usually the first and last, of the leading morning papers are, as from time immemorial, crowded with fine print announcements with only a bold initial letter, to relieve the monotony.

The conspicuous new feature is the "Killed in Action," or the "Roll of Honor" section. Alongside the familiar string of births, deaths, and marriages, it has now become a daily occurrence to find in many of the papers a good part of a column taken up with such announcements as this:

"READ: Killed in action in the Battle of the Aisne; about the 19th, Sept., Arthur Beddome Read, Sec. Lieut. Somerset Light Infantry, the dearly-loved son of the late Robert R. Read and Mrs. Read, Avalon, Sutton, Surrey, and grandson of the late Col. R. H. Beddome and Mrs. Beddome, Sispira, Putney."

There is not a column, and hardly an advertisement among the hundreds on the page but what directly or indirectly suggests some phase of the war. The "Personal" columns, as ever, are enigmas except to those who have shared the secret of communication by this means, but they often flavor of patriotism. When one reads: "Dearest: Am praying for you. Always loyal. Love," he may easily imagine it to be some sweetheart's possibly vain attempt to get a word to her soldier lover, she knows not just where.

But one needs to exercise no imagination to see the effect of the war in other instances. Taking a personal column haphazard one finds near the top such an appeal as this:

"I want to buy a German helmet. What offers."

There are many suggestions of how one may help the troops in training, such as this:

"Will anybody lend a pack of harriers or beagles to a regimental mess to be hunted by the officers until ordered abroad?"

There are those who want to locate wounded relatives, such as this:

"If anybody has news of Major A. F. Harg, the King's Own Scottish Borderers, wounded at Le Chateau, August 26th, will they please communicate with .....?"

"Gentlemen idle through the war" appear frequently in the appeals for employment. One such addressing his card particularly to Americans says he would like to take a party of three touring anywhere through Great Britain.

An "advertiser holding post under military authority" asks if "a kindly disposed lady or gentleman will lend him 15 pounds for special family provision.—Will repay by installments of 10 shillings a week."

There is such a one as this to reflect the busy days at the War Office:

"Officer at War Office long hours desires to let or exchange his house one hour from London."

Many young men sign themselves to such appeals as this:

"Will any one provide motor bicycle, with pound weekly for camp expenses and for wife, to enable me to join the motor corps?"

No matter where one may be going abroad, it seems, he believes his departure presents rare opportunities to extend British trade. There are several announcements like this:

"Englishman going to America; would introduce or sell English goods of merit on reasonable terms."

The reader is struck by the number of advertisements in French and Dutch, and now and then one in the strange Russian characters. There is no evidence of German. "In view of the large number of French and Belgian subjects in England," says one newspaper announcement, "we will undertake translation of advertisements from foreign words to English or English to foreign, free of charge."

The "Situation Required" section is always filled to overflowing these days. It contains many pathetic instances of distress. There is no knowing how many of them are genuine. One reads:

"Bright English girl in great distress, owing to war. Absolutely at end of resources, and disheartened trying to obtain mere existence. Musical, artistic, well educated; fluent French. Will any lady help?"

There is an unusual number of women desiring to dispose of jewelry and other luxuries—suggesting they are in need of funds. "A lady," reads one such advertisement, "wishes to dispose of her fox stole and muff (black). Quite new. This season's style. Cost ten pounds. Accept 50 shillings." And there is a "dog lover" who will part with some prize dogs "for the benefit of the Belgian refugees."

There are firms which advertise as a specialty the business of "finding lost luggage on the continent." There is the random case of a chemist who wants a chance "to work out processes for the manufacture of products hitherto made only in Germany." There is an agency which makes this appeal to the clergy:

"Sermons supplied every week; new, fresh, simple, and drawing lessons from the war."

"A University Man" appeals for a chance to render "patriotic service," and wants "a living wage only." The Anti-Vaccination League stirs up an old controversy by advertising to men joining the territorials that Lord Haldane when minister of war ruled that vaccination was not compulsory. The column of "Legal Notices" is usually full of formal announcements of changes of names, persons with German sounding names abandoning them permently for English ones, to the confusion of future genealogists.

Special publications such as illustrated histories of the war, coming out by sectidns for a few pence each, pamphlets on countless subjects such as "How to Help Lord Kitchener," and books on both the serious and lighter phases of international relations are widely advertised. It is a surprise to learn how much matter that was written years ago is brought out today as having a bearing on the war.

The big ads—many of them covering a whole page—have a particular news element in the fact that they generally flaunt in big type the "all-British goods" idea. "Mr. Lloyd George truly said," says one of these advertisements, "that this war would be decided by 'silver bullets'. Every German, or Austrian article bought in this country means so many silver bullets against us'. Every British article purchased so many more of the all-powerful 'silver bullets' for us."

Charges circulating in one way or another to the effect that certain firms are of German origin have led to several libel suits. Many firms stigmatized as German-owned have cleared themselves of the charge by court action, with the result that retractions with profuse apologies are not uncommon at advertising rates.

There is no corner of the advertising pages without its martial spirit or its grim bearing upon it. At the foot of one column of "Situations Vacant" there appears:

"Wanted: A coffin maker used to East End work."

One wonders if this, too, is not prompted by the demands of the war.

TWO NEW COTTON PLANS ARE BROUGHT FORWARD

One By Senator Overman and One in the House

No Chance for Either to Become Law, it is Thought—Overman Insists on Vote on His Measure for Government Bonds.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Washington, D. C., Oct. 12.—Two more "cotton plans" were brought forward today, one in the Senate and one in the House. The Senate plan, which is advocated by Senator Overman and several other Southern senators, would have the Government issue bonds in denominations of $5, $10, $20, and up to $500 at 4 per cent. in sufficient amount to buy 5,000,000 bales of cotton at not less than ten cents a pound; give the bonds to the cotton farmers who would take them to the bank and receive the cash. The Government would then hold the cotton for three years and at the end of that time sell the cotton and pay off the bonds. This plan also provides that some restriction be placed on the acreage of cotton until the bonds are redeemed.

The House plan, fathered, it is said, by Representative Pou, would have the Government issue $250,000,000 in bonds and loan to the several states; the states in turn would put up the bonds as collateral and get money to loan to the farmers on his cotton crop. The plan would also have such of the proceeds of the sale of the bonds as were not used by the States to be deposited in State and National banks as Government deposits.

There is no use to try to deceive the farmer nor the merchant nor any one else interested in the cotton crop. Neither one of these plans has a ghost of a show to pass the present or any other Congress. Neither would the President sign either one of them, even if they could be passed through Congress. It is believed that those advocating these measures know this to be true. Anyhow, any man, be he Democrat or Republican, if he thinks for a moment, cannot but admit that such measures as mentioned above are pure "bunk" when it comes down to the possibility of even enacting either of them into law.

Overman Insists on Vote.

When Senator Simmons stated to day that he would ask unanimous consent to vote on the war tax measure Thursday, Senator Overman notified him that he would object to such a request until an amendment to the bill providing for the Government to buy 5,000,000 bales of cotton at 10 cents a pound had been voted on. The junior senator said that he would be satisfied after a vote had been taken on this proposition, but he would not allow unanimous consent to vote on the war bill until the cotton amendment has been disposed of.

A "cotton meeting" is being held tonight at the palatial residence of Senator Hoke Smith. It is aimed to whip the plan for the Federal Government buying the cotton into shape so that it can be introduced in the Senate tomorrow.

It is now believed that the section of the war tax measure which provides for a tax on proprietary medicines will be eliminated when the bill goes to conference. Representatives Webb, Underwood, Page and several other leaders are opposed to this tax, which in a measure is taxing the poor man's doctor.

Bankhead Coming.

Senator John H. Bankhead, of Alabama, will speak at Raleigh Friday night before a mass meeting called to discuss the cotton situation.

MEETING AT HARMONY CHURCH

To Be Conducted by Rev. R. A. Lapsley, of Clarkton, N. C.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kerr, N. C., Oct. 12.—Rev. R. A. Lapsley, of Clarkton, N. C., will begin a revival meeting at Harmony church, on next Tuesday, October 20, at 11 o'clock. He will be with us through the fourth Sunday, closing the meeting on the Fourth Sunday night. We will celebrate the Lord's Supper on the Fourth Sunday morning. We extend a most cordial invitation to all the surrounding community to come and enjoy this feast of good news with us. God will bless those who wait upon Him.

MOTORCYCLE RACES TO FEATURE NEWBERN FAIR

Children's Day, Horse Racing and "Gladyway" Also Features.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Newbern, Oct. 12.—Motorcycle races will be one of the features of the Eastern Carolina Fair, which is to be held at Newbern on October 27 to 30, and the lists are now open to any rider who desires to participate. The races will be held on Friday, the 30th, and prizes amounting to $50 are offered to the winners. There will be no entrance fee and the only requirement is that as many as three riders shall enter the races.

Wednesday of Fair Week will be known as Children's Day, and every child 15 years or under will be admitted to the grounds absolutely free of charge. A well known educator, probably Dr. J. Y. Joyner, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, will be on hand to deliver an address. The events on the program for that day are such as will appeal to the youngsters, and every one in Craven and surrounding counties is urged to be present.

Clyde Eby, the manager of the Fair, is now engaged in getting up the various exhibits and in every department these will this year be better and larger than ever before. Those persons who have exhibits to be carried out to the Fair grounds have only to call Mr. Eby's attention to this fact and arrangements will be made to get them there without the least cost to the exhibitor. Those persons living out of town, and who are to make exhibits, are requested to send them along and to make the charges collect, and they will be paid here by the Fair Association. In every department it is the desire of the Fair management to make the exhibits most complete in every detail, and this cannot be done without the co-operation of the public.

Almost every one loves to see horse-racing, and this will be one of the real features of the Fair. Fast horses from all parts of North Carolina and Virginia will be on hand to participate in the speed tests. Two thousand dollars in cash prizes are being offered to the winners. One purse of five hundred dollars, the largest offered at any fair in North Carolina, is being offered at the Eastern Carolina Fair.

On the Midway, or "The Gladway," will be found the most complete aggregation of side shows ever assembled in North Carolina. There will be something doing along this every minute in the day, and no one can afford to miss being there. Remember the dates, Oct. 27 to 30th.

BOLD ROBBERIES AT WALLACE.

Bank, Postoffice and Store Robbed Sunday—Little Loot Secured.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Wallace, N. C., Oct. 12.—There was a bold robbery here Sunday, the post office having been broken into, and the burglar broke into the lock box of the Bank of Duplin and the box of the Duplin Grocery Co., taking all the contents out of each box, but finding there was no loot that he could manage, he threw the checks, etc., in an out-of-the way place. There was no very great damage done, but it will require right much time to get duplicates of checks that were lost.

This is one of many bold robberies that have been committed around here in the past few months.

Mr. T. Q. Hall and Master Frank Byrd have gone to Richmond for treatment.

NOTICE OF FORECLOSURE SALE OF LANDS.

By virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed executed by Wilmington Door & Lumber Company to C. N. Evans, President, Trustee, dated March 18th, 1912, and recorded Book 68, page 107, in the office of the Register of Deeds of New Hanover County, default having been made in the payment of the debt thereby secured, the undersigned will, on Monday, the 9th day of November, 1912, at 12 o'clock M., at the court house door in New Hanover county, expose to sale for cash at public auction to the highest bidder, the following described tracts or parcels of land:

First Tract.

Beginning at a point in the western line of Front street 132 feet North of the northern line of Ann street, running thence northwardly along said western line of Front street 66 feet; thence westwardly and parallel with Ann street to the channel or deep water of the Cape Fear river; thence along said channel or deep water of the Cape Fear River southwardly and parallel with Front street 66 feet to the northern line of Lot No. 5, in Block 125 of said City; thence eastwardly and parallel with Ann street to the western line of Front street, the point of beginning. The same being that tract or parcel of land conveyed by one A. M. Price to Brunswick Wood & Coal Company by deed bearing date January the 7th 1911, and duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for New Hanover County, and conveyed by Brunswick Wood & Coal Company to Wilmington Door & Lumber Company, as will appear by reference to the Public Records of New Hanover County.

Second Tract.

Beginning at a point in the northern line of Meares street 133 feet east of the eastern line of Fourth street, and running thence along said line of Meares street 33 feet in an eastwardly direction; thence North and parallel with Fifth street 87 feet to the Old Coalfield (Francis Morrie) line; thence along said line in a westwardly direction 33 feet; thence southwardly and parallel with Fifth street 87 feet to the northern line of Meares street, the point of beginning. The same being part of Lots 5 and 6, in Block 20, according to the official plan of the City of Wilmington.

Third Tract.

All that certain piece, parcel or tract of land situate, lying and being in Cape Fear Township, on the East side, in the County of New Hanover and State of North Carolina, bounded and described as follows:

Beginning at a cypress, on the West side of Cat Fish Creek, a small distance above an old field; thence with the lower line or a tract formerly owned by Samuel Ashe, west 220 poles to a cypress on said Cat Fish Creek near its head; thence same course 103 poles to the North West river; thence down the river so as to measure in a due South line 95 poles; thence from said river due East 336 poles to Cat Fish Creek; thence up said creek 35 poles; thence due East 75 poles to a stake on the Sand Hill; thence North 12 degrees West 62 poles; thence West 80 poles to Cat Fish Creek, opposite the Fish Station, containing by estimation 222½ acres, of which Twenty-Five acres is high land.

One tract situate in said County of New Hanover, on the South side of Cat Fish Creek, in the upper part of the bend, beginning at a cypress of the creek between the line of the land which formerly belonged to Samuel Ashe and Thos. C. Reston; thence with their line East 84 poles to the corner of said Ashe's line, or rather his old center ditch; thence with said Center Ditch North 2 poles; thence East 30 poles to the corner by the side of the Creek; thence West to the Creek and thence up the Creek to the beginning, containing 9½ acres.

One tract situate in said County of New Hanover, on said North West River and Cat Fish Creek.

Beginning on the River, on the lower corner of the tract, on said Creek first above described; thence East 60 poles; thence South 129 poles to the River; thence up the River to the beginning, containing 60 acres of Tide Swamp.

Also eight acres of Sand Hill, situate in said County of New Hanover, on Cat Fish Creek.

Beginning on the Creek at what was formerly known as the Reston lower corner; thence down the creek 20 poles; thence East and back adjoining the western line for its complement. The last mentioned Four tracts of land, described under "Third Tract" herein being the same lands conveyed by E. P. H. Strunch and wife to Brunswick Wood & Coal Company by deed bearing date June 12, 1909, and duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for New Hanover County, in Book 58, page 458 et seq., and reference is hereby made to said deed for the description therein contained, and the same being conveyed by the Brunswick Wood & Coal Company to the Wilmington Door & Lumber Company, by proper deed of conveyance, as the Public Records of New Hanover County will show.

The foregoing tracts of land will be sold separately, except as to those tracts lying on or near Cat Fish Creek, which latter tracts will be offered separately and as a whole.

Dated and posted this 7th day of October, 1914.

PLAIN TALK No. 3

If a business man went to his home after his day's work in his office and found the chairs in his library dusty; pictures hanging crooked on the wall; the room cold; a general sense of untidiness, uncleanliness and general disorder, he would register a kick and howl that would be heard all over the house. And yet — this same man spends his hours of business in an office where intelligent and regular janitor service is unknown, in fact where there are no facilities for such service. He sits through the dirt and dust. His clients and friends call; they do not see; they have become accustomed and hardened to the old order of things. And there lies the point. Few NEW faces do come. There is no attraction. Look this square in the face. Is this the case in your business? Think it over. There is a building in Wilmington which remedies all of these and many other troubles for $12.00 a month and up. Brighten up. Stir around a bit. Get yourself in the Murchison National Bank Building, and be proud of your office quarters. Visit the tenants already in this handsome building; talk to them. They have a message for you.
